SEEK SLAYERS OF TWO DRY RAIDERS

FIND BODIES OF A MISSING ILLINOIS PAIR

Authorities Seek Trio Who Rented Tract Near Edwardsville, Following Evidence of Brutal Murder of Constable and His Assistant.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Three men who several months ago rented a 200-acre tract near Horseshoe lake are sought by Madison county authorities investigating the slaying of Constable Ohmer Hockett, 38, and his assistant, John Balke, 24, whose bodies were found yesterday in a shallow grave on the land.

A ghastly scene of brutal murder of the two officers by moonshiners, who thwarted a raid, is pictured by officials in charge of the investigation.

The officers, who disappeared January 29, when they started out from Edwardsville on a liquor raid, are believed by authorities to have been captured by moonshiners and tortured for six days with their hands tied behind them with bailing wire before they were murdered as their captors abandoned their rendezvous.

Theory Substantiated.

This theory is substantiated by the finding of fresh blood on the bodies Coroner Baer said the blood and the condition of the bodies indicates the men were slain Thursday afternoon or night.

In an abandoned farm house near the grave, a squad of federal prohibition agents, who discovered the bodies, found vats containing nearly 100,000 gallons of whisky mash. They also found parts of two stills.

The house, its windows shattered by bullets, gave evidence of a pitched battle between the moonshiners and the officers preceding the capture.

Battle Pictured.

It is thought the officers might have raided the place in the absence of the moonshiners and were captured after a fight when the moonshiners returned.

That both officers were shot and killed while they were helplessly bound, is indicated, authorities say, by the fact that each was shot under the left eye, the bullet penetrating his brain. Faces of the victims were powder burned.

Hockett's skull was crushed and it is evident he had been beaten over the head with a sharp instrument. There were no marks of violence on Balke's body.

No suspects have been arrested. An inquest will get under way today.

YOUNG LINCOLN ORGANIST MISSING

Believed by friends to have suffered a lapse of memory due to overwork, William Hart, 20, 519 South Seventeenth street, musician, was reported missing since Friday noon. Police were requested to aid in the search.

Hart, who is organist at the First Presbyterian church and the Jewish Temple and an instructor at the University School of Music, could not be found Friday or Saturday. Friends of the man told Night Lieutenant Joe Rymer that they feared he had suffered a lapse of memory probably due to strenuous work.

Police wired authorities at Kansas City to be on the lookout for the missing man, as he spoke to friends recently about a contemplated trip there. He left no word or indication of such a trip with his parents, Mr and Mrs W. E. Hart, 519 South Seventeenth street.

Hart is described as 20 years of age, short and heavy-set, light complexioned, with brown eyes and blond hair. He wore heavy shell-rimmed glasses, a gray cap, gray suit, and no overcoat when last seen Friday noon.

Mr. Hart was the accompanist for H F. McCulla who sang before the Kiwanis club at the chamber of commerce Friday noon. He disappeared immediately after the meeting and no trace of him had been found up to Saturday noon.

Friends reported that he withdrew $200 from his account at the bank Friday morning.

Burbank Now Claims Power To Heal Sick

SANTA ROSA, Cal., Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Power to cure the ill by the "laying on of hands" is claimed by Luther Burbank, plant wizard, whose recent announcement regarding his views on religion caused a sensation.

Burbank said he had demonstrated his power to heal in two or three hundred cases and could relate results "that would almost make your hair stand up."

Conviction that he is possessed of psychic personality was expressed by the scientist today following a visit to his home by Konad Leitner, Swiss psychologist.

After discussing with Leitner the powers of personal magnetism, Burbank told of a number of his experiences in healing the sick.

"Why, many years ago my nearest neighbor was dying," he is quoted as saying. "Four doctors had given him up. He sent for me and I went to his bedside. He told me, 'I'm going to die tonight.' I told him: 'You are going to get well. Tomorrow morning I will see you at your wood pile as usual!' He was there the next morning. That is ony one of so many cases."

"The power is not supernatural," Burbank added, "and bear in mind I will not allow the afflicted to be brought to me; I cannot have my door thronged with patients. I am far too busy to take on any more work than I have now on hand."

The Royal Life company, which absorbed the Universal Insurance Co. of Dubuque last month, now has $144,000,000 of insurance in force and assets exceeding $22,000,000.

NO TRACE OF ESCAPED MAN

Joe Stevens, 21, Cuts Hole In Roof at Men's Reformatory Friday Evening Jumps to Ground, Scales Fence Under Fire of Guards.

IMITATED TRUSTY AS CROSSED PRISON YARD

Shots Believed to Have Gone Wild; Was Second Break For Freedom; Under Four Year Term From Douglas County.

No trace of Joe Stevens, 21, who escaped from the state reformatory Friday evening, had been found by authorities Saturday noon.

Stevens made his escape by scaling the east fence of the grounds while two guards fired upon him, about 7:30 Friday evening. He was tracked to a farm one-quarter of a mile east, but the trail ended there and he has not been heard of since.

Using a brace and bit which he obtained in an unknown manner, Stevens bored holes in the ceiling of his ward, knocked out the boards to make an opening, and hoisted himself to the roof. Then he either jumped or slid down a drain pipe to the ground.

In the yard Stevens imitated as well as he could a trusty who attends the lights, according to Superintendent Gus Miller. When he neared the east fence he made a break and started to climb over. After warnings, two guards fired upon the man, but the shots are believed to have gone wild.

State, county and city officers searched the vicinity and watched railroad yards during Friday night, but the man was not discovered.

Stevens was serving a term of four years for breaking and entering, having been sentenced from Douglas county. With several other inmates he attempted to escape by sawing window-bars on March 9, 1925.

The man is described as 21 years of age, weighing 180 pounds, with brown eyes and hair and a ruddy complexion. His height is five feet eight inches.

A New Defeat For Copeland

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—For a second time the senate today voted against taking up the Copeland resolution, calling on President Coolidge to call the anthracite operators and miners into conference.

This time, however, the motion to bring the measure before the senate was lost by a margin of only five votes. The count was 43 to 39. Yesterday the same motion was voted down, 48 to 28.

Only three democrats voted against the motion today and ten republicans supported it.

Yesterday nine democrats voted i nthe negative and only seven republicans voted in the affirmative.

Meginnis Speaks to Professional Club

H. W. Meginnis, Lincoln architect, spoke Saturday noon at the regular weekly meeting of the Lincoln Professional Men's club on the evolution of the present style of the American domestic architecture and of the cost of house building.

The present architectural style is likely to hold its popularity for a long time, he said. This is in a great measure due to the fact that it is founded on older styles, and in many instances is but an adaptation.

He traced the development of the style of houses in America from the colonial days, asserting that the best types had been adaptations from the styles used in the mother countries.

Concerning the cost of a house he declared that it was determined largely by the features included and size demanded.

About fifteen were present at the meeting, which was held at the Lincoln hotel.

PAIR MAY FACE FEDERAL CHARGE

Taken After Chase During Which Officers Shot Gasoline Tank.

A complaint alleging a conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws will be filed in Federal court Saturday afternoon against Leon Young and Ben Jones, who were arrested Friday afternoon between Greenwood and Waverly by state and federal officers after a long and speedy chase, according to Assistant U. S. District Attorney D. W. Stewart. The arrest was made only after the officers shot holes in the gasoline tank of the Cadillac car which the two men were driving. Five quarts of liquor, said to have been thrown from the car during the chase, were taken by the officers. Shortly after a hole was put through the gas tank, a bearing of the Cadillac burned out and put an end to the chase.

A search revealed that Young was carrying $1,172 and Jones had $58.96. Both men claimed they had the liquor for their own use.

The officers were on their way to Greenwood Friday afternoon when they were passed by the two men in the Cadillac. They turned and pursued the car. Both cars were hitting a clip of about sixty-five miles an hour when the chase was the hottest.

MOTHER OF STAR KILLED

Mrs. H. Prevost Loses Life and Al Christie, Producer, and Vera Stedman, Movie Actress, Injured In Auto Accident.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs H. Prevost, mother of Marie Prevost, the film star, was killed and Al Christie, screen comedy producer and Vera Stedman, motion picture actress, were injured in an automobile accident last night, near Lordsburg, N. M., according to word received here early today.

The accident occurred when the car, a heavy machine owned by Miss Stedman, overturned while traveling about thirty miles an hour, the message said. Mrs. Prevost suffered a broken spine and fractured skull, and died before medical aid could be summoned.

Christie and the actress narrowly escaped death, being pinned under the machine. Both were rescued a few moments later by occupants of a passing car.

Miss Stedman suffered bruises and lacerations about the face and legs, while Christie escaped with a lacerated arm and head.

The chauffeur apparently was unhurt.

Prowler Reported In DePutron Home

A prowler in the home of D. E DePutron, 1723 F street, was reported to police at 8:15 p. m. Friday by Nathaniel Foote, 1445 South Twentieth street. When officers arrived the man was gone but they discovered that one room had been ransacked.

Officers could not tell what articles were missing from the house. Mr. and Mrs. DePutron are in Chicago and are not expected back until Sunday.

TREASURY TO ASK CHANGE IN VOLSTEAD ACT

Recommendations are Being Drafted To Seek Amendment Of Dry Law To Meet New Conditions, While "Wet" Drive Is Pushed.

WHITE HOUSE DECLINES OFFER ANY COMMENT

Wine and Beer Drive, Endorsed By The Episcopal Church Temperance Society, To Be Backed at Rally On Washington's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, Feb 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Several changes in the present prohibition regime, including a proposal to create a new and separate prohibition bureau, were sponsored in congress today by the administration.

The bill for a prohibition bureau, ranking with other bureaus in the treasury department, was introduced by Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee, with the backing of the treasury officials. At present the prohibition forces are under the jurisdiction of the bureau of internal revenue.

Introduction of the Smoot bill followed disclosure that Secretary Mellon was also preparing to ask for amendment of the Volstead act, presumably, to provide a new scale of penalties and differentiate between the bootlegger and the small consumer of liquor.

Approve Civil Service Plan.

Almost at the same time, a house committee gave its approval to a bill placing prohibition agents under the civil service regulations. Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury, endorsed the measure and both wets and drys in congress supported it.

The new prohibition bureau proposed would have at its head a commissioner receiving $10,000 a year.

All responsibility for dry law enforcement would take away from the commissioner of internal revenue, and placed directly in the hands of the secretary of the treasury, who would delegate it to the prohibition commissioner. The measure also proposes creation of a bureau of customs, under a commissioner and abolition of the present office of director of customs.

WASHINGTON, Feb 6. — (By the Associated Press.)—The treasury has drafted recommendations for a series of changes in the Volstead act and other statutes having to do with enforcement of prohibition, in order to meet new conditions.

The treasury's decision to seek amendment of the dry law coincides with a renewed drive in and out of congress for legalization of light wine and beer, but there was no indication that any step in the direction of such legislation was contemplated in the treasury program.

The wine and beer drive, recently given endorsement by the Church Temperance society of the Episcopal church, is expected to take organized form at a rally to be held on Washington's birthday under the auspices of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

COAL STRIKE BILL OFFERED

Robinson Suggests Federal Board Of Industrial Adjustments.

Measure Sent to Committee With Request For Early Action.

WASHINGTON, Feb 6.—(By tion to create a federal board of industrial adjustment for the purpose of invoking public opinion to prevent anthracite coal suspensions was offered today in the senate by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader.

The measure was introduced after a conference of democratic leaders at which the coal situation was discussed. Senator Robinson had the bill sent to a senate committee with a request for early action so that the subject can be taken up by the senate after the passage of the tax bill.

"The bill to create a board of industrial adjustment and to definite its powers and duties is not only designed to apply to the present alarming situation in the anthracite coal industry," Senator Robinson said, "it is also presented for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of this condition in the future by ascertaining and fixing responsibility and invoking public opinion for the protection of the consumers of anthracite coal against the annual controversies between operators and their employes.

"By the terms of the measure, either the president alone or the congress, by concurrent resolution, which does not require the approval of the president, may declare the existence of an emergency in which the public health or safety is endangered because of interference through strikes or lockouts in the production of the distribution of coal.

"The board of industrial adjustments, to consist of the secretary of labor, the secretary of commerce and the chief of the bureau of mines and two citizens, not engaged or interested in the production or the distribution of coal, is empowered to conciliate differences encourage arbitration and ascertain the causes of such emergency and recommend adjustments."

BANKER AND WIFE START LIFE ANEW

Wealthy New Yorker and Mate Clean Slate of Marital Difficulties and Sail For Europe---To Consult English Psychologist.

ABOARD S. S. OLYMPIC, At Sea, Feb. 6.—(By Wireless to The Associated Press.)—Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman are aboard this liner enroute to Europe.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—The New York American in a copyrighted story today says that Mr. and Mrs. James A. Stillman sailed for Europe aboard the Olympic at midnight, happy in a trial reconciliation after a sensational five year divorce litigation.

The banker and his wife, it is stated, are planning a new start in life on a "trial honeymoon" after cleaning the slate of their marital difficulties.

Mr. Stillman recognizes baby Guy Stillman, now 7 years old, as his son, and withdraws his allegations, in his unsuccessful divorce suit, that the boy is the son of Fred Beauvais, Indian guide.

A divorce suit recently started by Mrs. Stillman is to be dropped and lawyers of both have been notified that their services are no longer required.

The couple held a quiet farewell dinner at Mr. Stillman's home in West Fifty-second street last night with their 14 year old son, Alexander.

"From now on we march forward together, we hope," the American quotes them as saying. "We don't know what fate holds for us in the future. Tonight we leave for a new honeymoon, a sort of trial honeymoon.

Through With Lawyers.

"We are through with lawyers, through with outside advisers. We are going with each other and with ourselves. Whether this reconciliation will be permanent only time can tell. We both hope so."

The American prints in a facsimile a note written by Mrs. Stillman on her departure. It reads.

"Lite and love are not fairy tales.

"They are as bitter as death some times—and as splendid as God, if there is one.

"For me, this is hard—somewhat bigger than myself—so, I am uncomfortable. So that I will have to grow somewhat more to fit. And so, as Briggs would say, far into the night."

Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were booked on the Olympic, the American says, as Mr Smith" and Miss Fuller," with separate staterooms.

They go abroad, the story continues, to consult Dr R F. Baynes, a young English psychologist whose psycho-analysis of Mrs. Stillman, when she was broken in spirit at the time her husband brought suit for divorce, helped her, in her own words, to find herself again.

Trying To Forget.

For the safety of their children, the American continues, the Stillmans are seeking to forget the many sensational charges they hurled at each other during their divorce trial.

Six weeks ago Mr. Stillman pressed an emerald ring into his wife's hand and said: "I love you and I want you. I have always loved you. Will you come back to me?"

The ring was one of the two pieces of jewelry bequeathed to the banker by his mother, Mrs. Sarah R Stillman, who died a fewmonths ago.

At this meeting, the American says, that the banker picked up "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," and pointing to a paragraph read: "Unrepenant and too beautiful to kill." This sentence he told his wife fitted her as a garment. They talked their affairs over and met again. Mrs. Stillman, the story says, said:

"James A., if you will go abroad

Mrs. Stillman Sends a Radio

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(A. P.)—Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, in a radio message to the Associated Press this afternoon, confirmed her presence on board the steamship Olympic, which is bound for Europe.

Mrs. Stillman made no mention of whether her husband, James A. Stillman, also was a passenger on the liner. Her message was in answer to one sent her by the Associated Press.

Indication that her husband was with her was seen in the fact that in her message she referred inquirers to the newspaper reporter whose article, published this morning, said they had sailed together aboard.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 6.—One unidentified man was killed and thirty persons injured, none seriously today when the airbrakes failed to function and resulted in a rear-end collision between two street cars.

More than 100 passengers on the two cars received a severe shaking and a dozen of them were taken to a hospital.

CATHOLICS PLAN A NEW EDIFICE

Church and School To Be Erected at Lake Street and St. Mary's.

A new Catholic church and school will be erected at Lake street and St. Mary's avenue, it was learned Saturday morning. The parish of the Blessed Sacrament church, of which Rev D. J. Cronin is pastor, is sponsoring the project.

Building will probably begin some time in the spring, but the plans for the structure have not been completed and the details of organization are yet to be worked out, Rev. Cronin said Saturday.

It will be a substantial structure, although Rev Cronin would make no estimate of its probable value. Whether two buildings or one combination structure will be erected is also yet to be decided.

The school will include the grammar school grades.

More definite plans for the proposed church and school will be announced in about two weeks, Rev. Cronin said.

The body will be held at Splain and Schnell's chapel until 8 a. m. Sunday.

The body of Martha Francis Cameron will be held at the Krobien, Goldstein & Umberger, funeral home until Monday morning when it will be taken overland to Peru, Neb. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. at the Methodist church at Peru. Burial in the Peru cemetery.

Funeral services for Bernard Fenker were held at 9 a. m. Saturday at St. Mary's cathedral, Fourteenth and K streets. Solemn pontifical mass was celebrated by Bishop Beckman, assisted by Monsignor Petrasch, arch priest; Rev. Fathers Cronin and Quinn, deacons of honor; Rev. Father Ildelphonse, deacon; Rev. Father Murphy, sub deacon and Rev. F. L. O'Loughlin, master of ceremonies. The following members of the Knights of Columbus were pallbearers: Homer Grey, John A. McGuire, Dr. T. A. Trumble, John H. Rosenstock, Dr. E. G. Zimmerer, and E. B. Foster. Burial in the Calvary cemetery.

Funeral services for William H. Cotton were held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday at the home of the daughter, Mrs. F. R. Mullen, 2425 Sewell street, in charge of Rev. Hebberly of Aurora. Burial in Wyuka.

Funeral services for Victoria Matson, who died Friday afternoon at her home, 1945 Washington street, will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at Castle, Roper & Matthews in charge of Rev. C. L. Myers. Burial in Wyuka. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Ida Matson, and a brother, Carl.

Margaret McCain passed away Friday at Fairbault, Minn. She made her home in Lincoln with her daughter, Mrs Joe Astley. The body will be brought to Lincoln and taken to Castle, Roper & Matthews' pending funeral arrangements.

Denton Sloan (Billie) Brown, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brown, passed away at 10 a. m. Saturday at the home, 3700 F street. The body is at Castle, Roper & Matthews'.

Glee Club Contest Won By University Of Kansas Singers

WICHITA, Kas., Feb. 6.—(AP)—University of Kansas, by a margin of only 2 points, won the second annual Missouri Valley intercollegiate glee club contest here yesterday, University of Missouri placing second and Kansas State Agricultural college third.

The respective scores were 141, 139 and 131. Eight colleges and universities participated.

Kansas will represent the valley at the national contest to be held in Carnegie hall, New York City, March 6.

Shepherd Enters Verdict For City

District Judge Fred Shepherd found for the city of Lincoln Friday afternoon in the $5,000 damage suit brought by Amanda M. Austin.

Suit was brought on the grounds that graders employed by the city in 1923 damaged the property at Seventeenth and Q streets by killing trees and by creating a cut bank. After a three-day trial, the matter was taken out of the hands of the jury when both sides moved for a directed verdict.

FURNISHES BOND.

Paul Guelker, second of the alleged burglars arrested by Lincoln police Wednesday night and charged in municipal court Thursday with burglary, was released on bond of $2,500 Friday afternoon. The bond was signed by his mother and his sister, who is the wife of Charles Haskell, Guelker's alleged companion in recent robberies in Lincoln. Guelker and Haskill stood mute when arraigned before Judge E. B. Chappell. Pleas of not guilty were entered for them and they waived preliminary hearing. Judge Chappell bound them over to district court. Haskell was released Thursday on similar bond.

SEE EARLY VOTE ON TAX PUBLICITY

Couzens, Leader of Fight Against Repeal Clause, Expects Decision Soon.

Members of Both Parties Support Full Publicity Proposal of Norris.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Opening of tax returns to public inspection was urged in the senate by members of both parties Friday as the tax reduction bill was subjected to seven more hours of debate.

For the second day, a decision went over on the provision in the bill for repeal of the section of the present law allowing publication of amounts of tax payments, and Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, in charge of the measure, anounced he would force night sessions next week to hasten disposal of the measure.

Opponents of the repeal, who are countering with a motion to declare the full returns public records, instead of merely the amounts paid, held the floor during the day, and while the debate was held strictly to this schedule, senate managers of the tax bill privately charged that a filibuster was in progress against it.

Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, who led the fight for opening of tax returns to public inspection, indicated last night, however, that he expected a vote today on the provision. Senator Norris, republican, of Nebraska, author of the full publicity amendment, which also was supported Friday by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, was to speak on it today.

Approve Amendments.

Despite the lengthy debate, the senate, before adjourning last night, approved more than a score of technical amendments to the administrative sections of the bill, which had been passed over previously. They were accepted without discussion. A proposal to enact into law treasury rulings allowing amortization claims, if made before March 3, 1924, went over at the request of Senator Couzens.

Urging the opening of tax returns to public inspection "as a vital necessity," Senator Couzens declared the investigation of the internal revenue bureau by a special senate committee of which he was chairman had shown "collusion, dishonesty and favoritism" in its administration.

The returns, numbering about 65,000,000, have never been subjected to public review or audit in the thirteen years the income tax law had been in effect, he said, holding that the limited publication provision was "absurd."

Court Modifies Injunction Order Against Exchange

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Supreme Court Justice John Ford yesterday agreed to modification of the injunction granted Thursday against the Consolidated Stock exchange restraining it from alleged bucket shop operation and "sales" in which no securities changed hands.

The modifications granted Friday were designed to permit the exchange to continue doing business through its clearing house and to continue marginal trading under restricted conditions.

The exchange transacted business as usual yesterday and its president, Thomas B. Maloney issued a statement saying:

"There is no apprehension on the part of our members or the customers of our commission members."

American Unions Invite Negro to Join, Says Frayne

NEW YORK Feb.6—(A. P.)—The American Federation of Labor "freely and openly" invites negroes to membership, said Hugh Frayne, its general organizer, in addressing the annual conference of the National Urban league yesterday.

Refuting charges made Thursday before the league by other speakers that labor discriminates against the negro, Mr. Frayne declared that according to its constitution the federation makes no discrimination against the negro or any other race or creed.

He admitted that many local organizations are prejudiced against the negro, but said attempts were made regularly by the federation to break down such prejudices.

Samuel Craig, 65, Turnkey at Prison, Expires Suddenly

Samuel Craig, 65, a turnkey at the state penitentiary, died suddenly at 5:20 p. m. Friday in his sleeping quarters at the institution. The death is ascribed to heart trouble.

He had finished his supper and went to the men's dormitory for a few minutes before starting his night's work. Just as he sat upon his bed, he was overcome by the trouble from which he had long been suffering.

Mr. Craig had been a prison employe for more than fifteen years. His former home was at Fairmont. A brother and a nephew are the only known survivors. The body is being held at Splain & Schnell's chapel pending word from them.

Indict Davenport Man For Libeling Dry Law Officer

DAVVENPORT, Ia., Feb. 6—(AP)—Indictments charging circulation of false and libelous affidavits attacking the character of Federal Prohibition Officer Roy Muhs in an effort to bring about his removal from office were returned by the state grand jury here Friday against G. W. Coffman, former federal prohibition director, with headquarters at Minneapolis, and four others.

Coffman, who was said to be out of the city, has not been arrested. The others indicted are J. J. Klinck, a detective; Harry Strong, former city employe, and Amos Judisch and J. H. Pholman.

Today

Too Much Wealth.
Alcohol and Duelling.
Playing at War.
Irrigation's Value.

By Arthur Brisbane.

This rich, not one-tenth developed nation, enjoys what the French call "embarras de richesse," so many kinds of wealth, and so much of each kind that sometimes it really is embarrassing.

F. G. Bonfils, in his able Denver Post, tells of truck farmers in the surprising rich San Luis valley, asking the government to protect them against too many wild ducks. Farmers plant miles of pea fields for canneries; wild ducks, like a cloud, eat the peas.

The ducks will be annoyed when R. G. Parvis, Colorado game commissioner, carries out his plan and sends a snorting, humming airplane, up and down the San Luis valley, frightening the ducks from the peas.

Can you imagine the rage of those ducks when they see that new bird, looking to them as big as a mountain, bellowing and roaring at 100 miles an hour, up and down the valley?

That's better than in old days before the French revolution, when miserable peasants watched the deer eat their crops, and wild boars root up their gardens, helpless because noblemen wanted the pleasure of killing those animals and would not let the peasants touch them.

That is one of the many things that brought on the French revolution.

To avoid revolutions, make the masses contented. Give them something to live for.

That is done here by manufacturers of radio apparatus, automobiles, moving pictures. The fact that a revolution might break up the movies, and disturb the broadcasting station, would make the people hesitate.

You lose the habit of boasting in this wide and real America. (This is written on the train westbound for the Pacific coast). Letting others praise his newspaper, Bonfils only says in fair-sized type on the front page that it is "the best newspaper in the United States of America."

Back east in provincial Chicago, boy editors of the north shore call theirs "the world's greatest newspaper." Further east, in still more provincial New York, you read of a certain newspaper that it is "the greatest in the universe."

Changing human habits, established for centuries, curing men by law of their natural impulses, is slow work.

Prohibition proves it in this country, duelling proves it in France.

Cardinal Richelieu, powerful combination of priest and statesman, governing France over the head of a weak king, grew tired of the duels, that killed many of the bravest. He made duelling a capital offense and duellists were actually executed.

That, you would say, should have stopped duelling.

But not at all. Two days ago in Paris, Monsieur Jacques Roche, director of the Paris opera, thought he heard Monsieur Marnold, music critic, make "disparaging remarks."

Monsieur Roche boxed Mr. Marnold's ears. The proper procedure in Paris when you want to fight a duel.

French, Italians and others want to fight duels, and do fight them.

If Richelieu couldn't stop duelling by inflicting death, can we stop bootlegging with fines of $100—especially when bootlegging yields millions annually in profits, and men like alcohol more than they ever liked duelling?

Our respectable swivel-chair gentlemen of the navy must have their playthings. So at a cost of millions, our Pacific fleet "moves southward to attack our naval scouting craft."

Fourteen thousand officers and men on the public payroll are "keyed to their highest pitch" in this exciting imitation battle.

You couldn't find anything more serious or solemn unless you went into a nursery and watched children on opposite sides of the room playing with toy guns and soldiers.

It is not reasonable to expect navy officials to become suddenly interested in new ships of the air, the only ships that count. But it seems rather pathetic that public money should be spent on an imitation battle with no meaning. That might interest our economical president.

All these battleships and scouting craft of ours could be scattered, driven to cover, or sent to the bottom of the ocean in an hour, by a few airplanes carrying 5,000-pound bombs and directed by such a flier as Colonel Mitchell, kicked out of the army because he insisted on telling disagreeable truths.

Before the last big war, the fleets of England, France and Germany went out, as ours do today, in mock battle maneouvers, but what happened when war began?

They all stayed in their harbors, carefully camouflaged from attacks from above. The British and German fleets had one little skirmish in the North sea, then hurried back as fast as they could, in fear of fliers and submarines.

The greatest war in all history was fought without serious use of any battleships, cruisers or other floating ships, for the simple reason that they were entirely out of date. Fliers and submarines would have sunk them all.

We squander on our out-of-date naval maneuvers money enough to pay for air machines that would give us a real fighting fleet, and real defense if it came to another war.

President Coolidge might think of that, being of an economical turn.

Certain interests connected with power companies that want to control water power, carry on systematic misrepresentation as regards the value of irrigation.

Demand for irrigation influences votes for government control. Hence the attack on irrigation, destined to redeem millions of acres, the most fertile in the world, and to add tens of billions to the wealth of the nation.

Farmers know that even where it rains irrigation can improve crop values.

It is shown that in favorable localities, under irrigation, two crops of potatoes can be raised in one season instead of one. In addition to doubling the size of the crop, a season's irrigation more than doubles its value, by bringing in the first crop much earlier and getting higher prices for earlier potatoes.

This column has already described the alfalfa ranch of the Hodge brothers on the Arizona desert where rain seldom falls.

The land there year in and year out produces seven crops of alfalfa per year under irrigation, more than nine tons to the acre. The total cost of electric current for irrigating 150 tons worth $28 a ton is $260. Any farmer knows the profit in that kind of farming.

HUMANE SOCIETY WORK INCREASES

County Organization Hears Reports at Annual Meeting Friday Night.

The annual meeting of the Lancaster County Humane society was held Friday evening at the Grand with about fifty members in attendance.

Secretary C. E. McClain, in his report, pointed out that the work of the society has increased five times since 1922, while the number of complaints cared for in the past year increased by 1,000 over those of the year previous.

The total number of complaints handled in 1925 was 3,847, and the total number of animals concerned was 5,409. These figures show the increase over 1924, Mr. McClain stated, when the number of complaints was 2,617, and the number of animals concerned was 4,407

Disbursements for the year were $9,718, and the total income slightly more. Of this amount about $4,000 was income from activities of the society, an increase of $1,000 over 1924. The income will be considerably reduced this year, McClain said.

For the new animal shelter a total of $4,220 has been collected, and 180 pledges made.

Secretary McClain showed pictures of animals which were cases of the society, and explained the process in dealing with children in families where parents abused them. The function of the Humane society is essentially protective, he stated.

The following trustees, whose terms expired, were re-elected: Miss M. B. Stuart, Lincoln Frost, O. J. Allison, T. J. Hensley, R. O. Williams, J. V. Harpham, E. C. Folsom.

The financial report was made by O. J. Allison, treasurer of the organization.

Following the reports the picture "Black Beauty" was shown

SENATE DEMANDS ALUMINUM FACTS

Ask Trade Commission Make Evidence Available For Justice Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Evidence furnished by the Aluminum Co., of America and withheld from the department of justice by the federal trade commission was made in a resolution which was adopted with little discussion and without a record vote. The measure was presented by Chairman Cummins of the judiciary committee, by direction of that body.

When the evidence is obtained it will be made available to the justice department for whatever it may be worth in the investigation now being made by that agency to determine whether the Aluminum company, in which Secretary Mellon is a stockholder, has violated Federal court decrees.

Doctors Donate Fees For County Work To Public

(Special to The Star).

FREMONT, Neb., Feb. 7. — By unanimous vote, the Dodge county board of supervisors abolished the office of county physicians and accepted the resignation of County Physician S. A. Preston. The $1,000 salary usually paid the county physicians will be donated to the county medical society for public health work. The medical society in turn will provide free service for county cases.

Young David City Wife Passes Away

(Special to The Star.)

DAVID CITY, Neb., Feb. 6.—The body of Mrs Claude May arrived here Friday morning for burial. Mrs. May was formerly Miss Rosa Schlentz of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Schlentz. She was a bride of three months and at the time of her death was 23 years old. She was married to Claude May, on November 4, at Bethany, Neb. From there they went to their new home in Long Beach, Cal., where she died after a few hours illness on January 30. She was a graduate of the David City high school with the class of 1920 and attended Cotner college for two-and one-half years. Besides her parents and husband, Mrs. May leaves a sister, Miss Lillian Schlentz, and one brother, Leroy Schlentz, both of this city.

CITY MISSION REPORT

The report of the City Mission for January issued Saturday by Superintendent Fred Daniels shows the attendance at all services for the month was 2,049, at the chapel service, 1424, at mothers' and children's meetings, 206, and at Sunday school, 419.

Three hundred thirty-nine men and boys were lodged in the month, employment found for fifty-six, and 239 meals were earned.

Other material aid given by the society included fourteen orders of groceries, five orders of coal, and garments and shoes for 515.

Eleven conversions were made upon confession of faith, forty-eight requests for prayer were received, and thirty missionary calls made.

Say Well Dressed Man Should Have Six Pairs Shoes

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.(A. P.)—The well dressed man must have six pairs of shoes, authorities in footwear styles meeting here have decided. And one of these must be in the "nude"—the new shade.

The half dozen pair should be: Black for Sundays and evenings; tan for business; "nude" calf for the light gray suit or outing garb; black dress for formal evening wear; sport and golf oxfords.

COOLIDGE LIKES CONGRESS' WORK

Pleased With Nonpartisan Attitude Taken Toward Important Measures.

WASHINGTON, Feb 6—(By the Associated Press.)—Congress came in for a kind word at the white house yesterday on the heels of publication of President Coolidge's opinion that some senators and representatives were trying to put his administration in a bad light for political reasons.

It was announced at the white house that the executive is pleased over the progress being made in legislation and feels that democrats as well as republicans deserve credit for speeding action on the tax bill and the World court proposal.

Without show of partisanship the house disposed of the revenue measure with dispatch, the president recognizes, and also has acted on other proposals of importance.

Chapman's Fate Resting on Turn Of Legal Phrase

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals Friday took under advisement the case of Gerald Chapman, who seeks a reversal of the ruling of the District court that he should not be returned to Atlanta to finish a twenty-five year penitentiary term for robbery before being executed in Connecticut for murder.

The court gave Chapman's two days in which to file a brief.

Whether Chapman goes to the the gallows in Wethersfield prison on March 3 or to the penitentiary may depend upon what was meant in 1787 when the president was vested with power to "reprieve or pardon" offenses against the United States

Judge Learned Hand raised this point when he suggested that reprieve during the Eighteenth century might have had the same meaning as "commutation" at the present time.

Rider Sentenced To Reformatory For Auto Theft

Harry Rider, 23, of Crete, was sentenced to 18 months in the state reformatory when he pleaded guilty Friday before Judge Wheeler to a charge of auto theft. This sentence was imposed with the understanding that he is to go to relatives in California as soon as his time has been served.

Rider was accused of taking a Chrysler sedan from Lincoln to Sioux City and keeping it there several months.

CONVICT TEN IN KIDNAPING CASE

Alleged Members Of "Royal Riders Of Mystery" Found Guilty In South.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Ten men, alleged members of a red hooded band known here as the Royal Riders of Mystery, who, disregarding a court order granting custody of a child to Mrs. Jack Shoda, the mother, forced her and her second husband, an Austrian, to take it to the home of its maternal grandparent, have been convicted on charges of kidnapping.

The "Legion of Ghosts," as the band was known, objected, it was said, to a foreigner raising the child of an American.

Seven alleged "riders" pleaded guilty after Frank Thomas had been convicted of the crime. Two others previously tried were found guilty and sentenced to a year in jail.

Six of those admitting their guilt were fined from $50 to $100. The other was sent to jail for thirty days. Thomas will be sentenced later. Ten others are awaiting trial.

Shoda said the hooded band came to his home at night and forced him to accede to their demands, the "Ghosts" compelling him and his wife to walk in front while they rode on horseback.

Bollmeier Must Give Up State Job

Because he holds no license as a medical practitioner in Nebraska and lacks the necessary qualifications entitling him to take examination for entrance into the profession, L. N. Bollmeier will have to quit his position as assistant physician at the Hastings state hospital for insane. This was indicated to him by State Welfare Secretary Frost after Bollmeier had come to Lincoln and interviewed that official Friday in regard to taking the examination.

The college at St. Louis where he took his medical courses is not an accredited institution, and the state authorities here do not recognize work done there as a basis for practice in Nebraska.

Bollmeier signified that he would not contest the decree of Secretary Frost and the state medical board in ruling him out. He will seek employment in laboratory work instead.

The board of control, which has been "embarrassed" by the Bollmeier case, according to a letter written by Chairman Oberlies, will look for somebody else to fill the assistant physician's place at the Hastings institution.

PHALEN ADMITS BIGAMY CHARGE

Dodge County Man Given Twelve to Fifteen Months In Prison.

(Special to The Star).

FREMONT, Neb., Feb 7.—Catherine Lewis Phalen, 30-year-old Winner, S. D., young woman, formerly a school teacher, and who will start teaching again, she says, left this morning for Winner, after completing the merry task of sending her husband, Charles Phalen, 36, a Howells, Neb., automobile mechanic, to the state penitentiary. Phalen will be taken to Lincoln today by Sheriff Johnson to begin a 12 to 15 months sentence.

On November 24 last Phalen appeared at the court house here and secured a marriage license to wed Miss Julia Dolezal, a popular Howells girl. They returned to Howells. All was lovely, it seems, until some one who knew wife No. 1 mailed a newspaper clipping to the latter young woman:

This clipping, received ten days ago, brought Mrs. Phalen No. 1 promptly to Fremont Tuesday of this week she arrived. Wednesday she filed the bigamy complaint Friday afternoon Phalen pleaded guilty and received his sentence. This morning Mrs. Phalen left for Winner while arrangements were being completed at the county jail to remove her spouse to Lincoln. Mrs Phalen No. 2 did not come down for the trial.

H. T. Ward, Early Nebraska Bridge Builder Is Called

(Special to The Star)

TECUMSEH, Neb., Feb. 6—Harvey T. Ward died at his home in this city last evening. He was a native of Fulton Iowa, having been born there March 21, 1855. Mr. Ward came to Johnson county in 1879, and for many years was a prominent bridge contractor of Nebraska and adjoining states. He was a democratic leader of Nebraska. Mr. Ward was married to Miss Mary Gilligan at Tecumseh, June 22, 1881. His wife and three sons survive, the sons being John M., Raymond Ward of Tecumseh and Chester Ward of Lincoln. Mr. Ward was a prominent Mason and a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Crow Bounty For Hamilton County

(Special to The Star)

Lincoln Man Is Badly Injured By Frightened Mules

(Special to the Star)

WYMORE, Neb., Feb. 6.—While attending a farm sale at the W. M. Fulton farm, nine miles southeast of Wymore Friday afternoon, Ham Cully, an employe of a poultry firm of Lincoln, former resident of this vicinity, sustained a broken collar bone, several fractured ribs and a badly injured head, when two mules confined in an enclosure awaiting sale, became unruly and stampeded, jumping onto Cully, knocking him unconscious, and breaking away.

Cully has a mother living at Liberty and has been in the employ of a poultry firm at Lincoln for the past few years, traveling with carloads of live poultry to New York and San Francisco, and had been visiting here at the time of the sale. He was rushed to a Beatrice hospital for treatment.

Weaver Declares American Farmer Asks Protection

FALLS CITY, Neb., Feb. 6.—(AP)—"Agriculture is the only great business in America that is not stabilized," A. J. Weaver, one of Nebraska's representatives at the Des Moines farm conference, told more than 100 farmers at the Richarson county farm bureau federations annual meeting at the court house here Friday afternoon.

"As it is now, the American farmer is competing on a basis with the peasant labor of Europe, the peon labor of South America and the coolie labor of Asia," he continued.

Mr. Weaver declared the American farmer was not asking for price fixing, but for protection.

Half a Million Is Demand Made In a Burgess-Nash Suit

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Herbert Daniel, trustee for the bankrupt Burgess-Nash company, has filed suit in federal court here against the Burgess-Nash Building company for $500,000. This amount, he alleges is rightfully due the Burgess-Nash company from the buiding company, because of fraulent manipulation of finances.

The petition alleges that prior to and during the years 1920, 1921 and 1922 both concerns were under the irection of Ward M. Burgess, Louis C. Nash Arthur S. Smith an L. F Crofoot an that while these men were in control of the Burgess-Nash company they cause to be paid to the building company the sum of $500,000.

TO EXPLORE NEW ARCTIC REGIONS

Capt. Wilkins and Party to Look Over Territory. Yet Untraversed.

OMAHA, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Captain George H. Wilkins, commander of the Detroit polar expedition, and Major Thomas G. Lanphier, army aviation expert, and former Omahan, were guests of this city today during their stop-over on their way to learn something about a vast unexplored region "south of the North pole—on this side." A pilot, mechanic, photographer and newspaperman accompanied the party.

"The 'other side' of the pole no longer is virgin territory for explorers, as that region has been more or less traversed in the various dashes for the top of the world, so we are going to try the other side." Captain Wilkins explained "There is a mistaken impression that our purpose is to fly to the north pole, but all we intend to do is to explore as far as possible in area never before visited We believe there is land there, perhaps islands. If so, we shall try to land and learn as much as possible about it. After that we plan to fly over past the north pole to the 'other side,' ending at Spitzbergen, where other explorers have made their start."

The party planned to stay in Omaha all day, taking luncheon with the chamber of commerce, leaving this afternoon for Denver, the next stop on their way to Seattle. They plan to sail from Seattle for Seward, Alaska, February 13. The exploration base will be located at Point Barrow, Alaska

LITTLE SYMPHONY IN THIRD CONCERT

Kansas City Orchestra Gives Programs For School Children and Adults.

The third of a series of four concerts given in Lincoln by the Kansas City Little Symphony orchestra was presented Friday at St. Paul's church. As usual, the orchestra gave an afternoon performance for school children and a program for an adult audience in the evening. The numbers presented at the evening concert, differing greatly from the type played in the first two concerts, were delightful, but did not seem to be so popular with the general audience as the others had been. The program opened with the overture from "The Merry Wives of Windsor," by Nicolai, an always pleasing number. The Mendelssohn symphony, "Italian," which followed, was characteristic of the composer, and was presented in splendid fashion.

In place of the vocalists, who have appeared at previous concerts with the orchestra, the soloist Friday evening was a pianist, Richard Canterbury, who showed rare ability. His technique was superb and the interpretation he gave of the Rinsky-Korsakow concerto revealed the heights of musicianship. "The Convent of St. Damien" was a lovely number with a remarkable play of the muted strings. The De Rubertis arrangement of DeBussy's "Marche Ecossaise" made the piece unusually interesting, much more so than had it been given purely as a DeBussy number. Massenet is usually a favorite with every audience and the "Fete Boheme" was no exception.

Mr. Canterbury gave two encores following his concerto, "Bourre," Bach; and "Golliwog's Cakewalk," DeBussy.

The orchestra responded with four encores. "Toreador of Andonlase," Rubenstein; "The Watch of the Guardian Angel," Pierne; "Sumber Song," De Rubertis, and "Song of India," Rinsky-Korsakow.

The afternoon performance was of great interest, featuring particularly musical appreciation, which is being taught in the Lincoln schools under the direction of H. O. Ferguson. The programs were semi-questionnaires which the children were asked to fill out and hand in. The questions had mostly to do with composers, tempo and instruments. Mr. DeRubertis followed the afternoon program with "Toreador of the Andoulase" by Rubenstein.

The evening program was as follows:

I—Overture to "Merry Wives of Windsor," Nicolai.

II—Symphony No 4 "Italian," Op. 90, Mendelssohn. (a) Allegro Vivace. (b) Andante (c) Scherzo (d) Saltarelle

III—Piano Concerto in G Sharp Minor, Op. 30, Mimsky-Korsakow.

IV—(a) The Convent of St. Damien, Pierne. (b) Marche Ecossaise, DeBussy. (Arranged by N. DeRubertis)

V—Fete Boheme, Massenet

WOMEN FAINT IN FUNERAL THRONG

Five Narrowly Escape Trampling at Services For Barbara LaMarr.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Five women fainted in the crowd of several thousand persons which gathered at the funeral services of Barbara LaMarr, the moving picture star, who died a week ago and was buried yesterday.

Only a few friends and close acquaintances attended the funeral services, as Miss LaMarr had wished. The crowded formed in front of the funeral chapel and fought police to get a glimpse of the casket as it was started on the way to the Hollywood cemetery.

The five women who fainted were rescued from being trampled upon only by the strenuous efforts of police. A sixth woman was so forceful in her attempts to view the casket that she fought the police, who ejected her from the crowd.

With the departure of the funeral party many of the crowd rushed into the chapel, although everything, even to the last wreath, had been removed.

Upwards of 40,000 persons filed past the bier of the actress during the three days her body lay in state in a mortuary chapel.

Lees Rites Monday On Coast; Ashes to Be Buried In Wyuka

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 6.—(I. N. S.)—Funeral services for Dr Thomas J. Lees will be held here Monday afternoon in the chapel of the Johnson-Saum undertaking parlors. Rev. H. Camden Lacey will officiate. The body will be cremated and the ashes kept here until spring, when the family will take them to Lincoln for formal burial in Wyuka.

Mrs. Annabelle Lees ,the widow, and Mrs. Guy Chamberlain, a daughter, are here, and a son, Dr. Thomas Lees, is expected from Cleveland.

Janes Estate Now In Supreme Court

Litigation over the disposal of property left by Mary Harms Janes of Lancaster county, upon her death, which was decided by the district court in favor of William H. Janes, her second husband, and his daughter, Bessie, is now before the supreme court of Nebraska on appeal taken by Matilda A. Wittstruck, a daughter of Mrs. Janes by her first marriage.

Mrs. Wittstruck asked that Janes be limited to the share of property allowed him in the will, but he claimed an elective portion under general laws and this was allowed him, notwithstanding a written stipulation which had been signed by the various heirs.

Northwestern Asks Shorten O'Neill Run

Hearing will take place at Norfolk next Monday, before Railway Commissioners Browne and Randall on the Northwestern railroad's application for permission to shorten the round trip of its passenger trains Nos. 11 and 12 between Omaha and O'Neill via the Scribner-Oakdale branch, by cutting off that portion of the trip each way beyond Oakdale.

It is expected there will be some opposition at the hearing from people in towns on the main line west of Oakdale, who would thus be deprived of one train a day each way. The hearing is scheduled to start at 9 o'clock Monday forenoon.

Wymore Awards Paving Contract

(Special to The Star).

WYMORE, Neb., Feb 6. — At a meeting of the Wymore city council Friday evening, another paving district of five blocks was let, the contract going to the J. B. "Galluses" and Suspenders Now Worn by Co-eds

SPARTANSBURG, S. C. Feb 5.—(AP)—Suspenders or "galluses" to hold up the skirts is the latest thing, say Converse college co-eds who are idling over the campus thusly attired.

No drab colored galluses are worn, all colors of the rainbow being blended in them. White shirtwaists add to the effect.

The girls do not trust the nail often used in lieu of the missing button, and connect the galluses and skirt with safety pins.

MR. COOLIDGE STRIKES BACK.

President Calvin Coolidge has been moved by the sting of criticisms directed at the administration to strike back at his political opponents

He does it in a characteristically Coolidge way.

Through some of his close associates, he lets it be known the White House has taken cognizance of some of the charges which have been tossed around rather freely in recent weeks and he hopes the country will not be unduly disturbed, or alarmed.

The nature of these charges is well known. One of them, preferred by the senior senator from Nebraska, George W. Norris, asserts Mr. Coolidge has packed certain governmental agencies with those of his particular political faith until they cease to be representative. Mr. Norris had more particularly in mind the tariff commission, presumably a nonpartisan board, and the federal trade commission, which was likewise created under the impression it should be divorced from politics. Other members of congress have devoted their attention to the department of justice, with more particular reference to its attitude in a case involving Secretary Mellon Still other congressmen have been outspoken in criticism of the handling of the affairs of the army and navy departments. The president is particularly concerned with reports that adequate provision has not been made for national security.

Mr. Coolidge need not be distressed over the condition of the public mind. The people are perfectly able to arrive at their own conclusions without the aid and assistance of interested politicians. They have become accustomed to a certain amount of political jockeying and while they may be temporarily misled and deceived, their final judgment is usually sound and sane.

In fact one of the greatest sources of strength which Mr. Coolidge has possessed has been his great faith in the fairness of the public mind. He has been serene and undisturbed in the midst of vexatious and perplexing problems. He has permitted others to do the talking while he remained silent It was his uncanny judgment in refusing to be drawn into the swirling maelstrom of the Teapot Dome storm, which made that most excellent issue of very little practical value to the political opponents of Calvin Coolidge. His handling of the matter, which he inherited from his predecessor, might have been the subject of a fierce political controversy but he simply refused to talk and it is very difficult to have an interesting debate when one side will not speak.

Mr. Coolidge's decision to break his proverbial silence, even in an informal way, takes him from the field where he is most effective and places him in an entirely new light before the American people. Under it the so-called "Coolidge myth" may break down.

Once the president feels that necessity requires he meet the charges which have been hurled at him, he will find the public interested in arriving at the facts. Is it true the federal trade commission has lost its nonpartisan character? Under the appointments made by Mr. Coolidge has that governmental agency been packed with an overwhelming membership of those who entertain the same political views as the president? If so then the federal trade commission has been greatly changed from the original legislative conception. Is a fact the tariff commission has been packed with men who are apostles of the doctrine of "high protection?" No one can deny that congress contemplated a board with a membership divided between those who believe in the principle of the protective tariff and those who would adjust it on the basis of revenue needs. Under the administrations of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Harding its membership was so distributed. Now we are told by excellent authority that the tariff commission is of one mind to such an extent that its decisions could be written in advance of hearings on the questions raised before it. The same situation exists in respect to the interstate commerce commission and other governmental agencies.

Mr. Coolidge's implied suggestion that the White House should be immune from well-grounded criticism cannot be accepted by the majority of the people. We have never placed a great deal of confidence in the doctrine of "les majeste," Even the president has been subjected to scorching criticism when he deserved it. Mr. Coolidge need only to concern himself with the truth or untruth of the charges brought against him. The only thing which could disturb a people would be a growing conviction that there was some actual foundation in the charges which are now being hurled at the administration.

AN OVERDOSE OF "BLAH."

Congressman Howard of Nebraska complains because some of the eastern newspapers have been commenting rather facetiously on his resolution to supply copies of the printed congressional record each day to public and parochial schools throughout the United States. The number of copies required for this purpose, he says, has been grossly overstated, these journals estimating it at a million or two.

Probably there has been some exaggeration in this regard, but it cannot be denied that the Howard resolution would load an enormous burden on the national treasury to supply all this printed matter. There are upwards of 6,500 public school districts in Nebraska alone, and many of the city districts have a number of different buildings, each of which would be entitled to copies. Count in parochial schools, and it is seen that 7,000 or more copies would be needed for this state.

Assuming the same requirements for each of the 48 states of the union, and adding in the district of Columbia, Alaska, Porto Rico, the Hawaiian Islands, and the Philippines, it would easily take 350,000 copies to go around. If the average size of the congressional record is 30 pages a day, this would be equivalent to 10,000,000 pages of matter for daily distribution to the schools of the United States and its outlying territorial possessions, while congress is in session.

The enormous expenditure that would thereby be necessitated for typesetting, proof-reading, correcting, ink, paper, presswork, wrapping, addressing, and compensation to railroads and ships for transporting the mail, together with salaries of clerks and carriers in distributing the copies, cannot be readily computed. It would doubtless run into millions of dollars a year, in the aggregate.

Is Congressman Howard acting in the interest of the taxpayers of Nebraska and of the third congressional district, which sent him to Washington, when he proposes such an outlay by the federal government? Does he imagine that the people of the United States are hankering for an opportunity to read the slush that appears in the congressional record, comprising very largely speeches prepared by senators and congressmen that were never delivered, speeches by other persons delivered elsewhere and printed in the record solely for the purpose of free distribution, and columns of conversational remarks passed back and forth on the floor, having little or no relation to the public business?

If he does, then he had better take some time off, come out to Nebraska, and get acquainted with the sentiments of the people he is supposed to represent

Of course, the Howard resolution will not go through, because even congress realizes that the record of its proceedings is regarded by the country as more or less of a joke. Moreover, many of the members would prefer to have the money spent for postoffice buildings in their districts, or for salaries of newly created jobs to satisfy the demands of political place hunters.

If the third district member really wants to do something for the taxpayers, let him tackle the job of cutting out the franking privilege which enables congressmen, senators and governmental departments to swamp the mails with deadhead matter. If he could bring that about, it would help a whole lot toward wiping out the annual postal deficit of $60,000,000 a year.

FAMINE IN THE ORIENT.

Those are strange stories coming to us from out of the Orient.

While a dozen of the central western states have food enough to feed the hungry millions of the world, famine is causing untold distress in the provinces of China. The dispatches from Hankow indicate a million persons are starving in the Province of Hupeh, China. Conditions are scarcely less serious in Hunan.

It is the old story of soil burdened with a greater population than it can support. These crowded countries of the Far East are always only a step ahead of the grim spectre of dire want and famine. Comes there a disaster of flood or drouth and hundreds of thousands perish before help can reach them from the western world. It is a story as old as western civilization has had contact with the mysterious East. Under the spur of western methods many of these countries have accomplished a great deal toward relieving some of the more distressing conditions Irrigation, distribution and better agricultural methods have served to remove the sting of hunger from millions but there is still so much to be done and apparently no satisfactory solution of the problem.

Back of the suffering and misery in China and India is often a story of governmental inefficiency. The ruling classes live well in those countries. The great masses live most abjectly. Even at this time while millions are starving in China there is food to be had if military factions would cease their fighting and devote themselves to the sober problem of distributing it.

But the plight of these eastern countries gives hint of an approaching day in the western world where many nations are still prosperous and wasteful. Increasing populations suggest that unless every means is taken to conserve the soil and the resources the west will provide the setting for such scenes of suffering and misery as are commonplace in the Orient.

REWRITING AMERICA.

Consider the case of a youthful applicant for a teachers' certificate in Nebraska. She was asked to give the first stanza of America, among other questions which were to be answered, and this is what she wrote:

My country 'tis of thee
Sweet lad of liberty;
I love thy rocks and drills,
Thy woods and tumble hills;
And may they always be
In God we trust.

It is hardly necessary to hazard the guess that the young lady did not receive her certificate But the incident is illustrative of a great weakness of the American people. If there is any inherent fault with our educational system today it is the lack of precise, accurate information. It is found in all business, in all industry, in every activity of humankind. No people possess a larger general fund of information than the Americans. Few peoples are more lacking in exact knowledge. From the school room to the grave there is not the effort to get things and get them right. It is a fault which is common to all of us.

The worst joke I heard today was told to me by G. M. Alexander of Fairmont, Va. He is president of just about all the public utilities around in that end of Virginia. Well, I was playing in Clarksburg and his company gave their girl employes a vacation They took them all around and showed them a real time. They had a big dinner at the Waldo hotel in Clarksburg. It just looked to me like the way they all got along and the thought that the company had for its help might have a lot to do with the lack of any criticism that I heard of all their street car lines and other branches of public convenience.

Boy, those girls would stock up with any bunch either in looks or dress. Mr. Alexander told a joke that happened to one of the girls in the company. The girl had read an add in the paper, "How to whiten, and soften the hands for 50 cents.' She fell for it and sent on the 50. She received the following recipe, "Soak the hands three times a day in dish water while mother rests."

Now that is one of the best recipes I ever heard. If that is followed it is certainly worth 50 cents, not only to the daughter, but it's worth more than that to the mother. I bet you would have to bulldog some flappers to get their hands into a dish pan.

Fried Welcomed At Southampton

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Feb. 6.—(AP)—The British government today paid official tribute to the gallantry of the American officers and seamen of the United States liner President Roosevelt who last week at the imminent risk of their own lives, rescued the entire crew of the British liner Antinoe, lying helpless and disabled in the grasp of the storm lashed Atlantic.

Welcomed into the harbor by a continuous roar of whistles and sirens, mingled with the cheers of thousands of persons gathered on the pier heads, the liner was boarded shortly before noon by a delegation headed by the president of the board of trade, Sir Philip Cunliffe-Lister, actin gas the personal representative of King George.

Sir Philip greeted all the officers and members of the lifeboat crew in the name of the king, and after a luncheon presented to those who engaged personally in the rescue the "gold medal for gallantry for saving life at sea." He also presented plate from the board of trade to Capt. George Fried, First Officer Robert Miller, Third Officer Thomas Sloane and Fourth Officer Frank Upton.

Insurance Commissioner Dumont, who is one of the defendants in the Leininger suit at Omaha to require an accounting from the officers of the North American National Insurance Co., was in conference with Attorney General Spillman for over an hour Saturday morning. After the interview, Mr. Dumont said that he supposed the attorney general's office would represent him in the litigation. Mr. Spillman declined to say whether it would or not.

Governor to Make Lincoln Day Talk

Governor McMullen has accepted an invitation from the Kiwanis club at Kearney to speak there at a Lincoln's birthday diner on the evening of February 12. For several weeks past he has been making no oratorical engagements on account of his recent illness, but now feels sufficiently improved to do a little public talking again.

Minority Report Praises Work of Revenue Bureau

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The methods of the senate committee which investigated the internal revenue bureau were sharply attacked today by a minority of the committee which held that the bureau has emerged with a clean record.

The minority, composed of Senators Ernst, Kentucky, and Watson, Indiana, republicans, held the committee had violated a senate order, in spirit at least, by failing to close the hearings last June 1.

It disputed contentions of the majority, composed of Senators Couzens, republican, Michigan, King, Utah, and Jones, New Mexico, democrats, which vigorously assailed the bureau's methods in handling many tax cases, and declared that the agency was entitled to the respect, admiration and praise of the congress and of the country for honest and efficient work.

Diet and Health By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

COLUMN RULES.

My dear Followers

Please do not depend upon personal answers from me for conditions that have to have the immediate attention of a physician. And do not depend on the column for such advice, for even though your questions can be answered in the column and answered immediately, it would be at least four weeks before the answer can appear.

My diet and Health column is a syndicated feature, appearing all over the United States and Canada. It is written and sent out from New York. This means that it has to be prepared three or four weeks in advance. The column creates great interest wherever it appears, and the combined mail from the different places is enormous. In order to be able to handle this and to be helpful to you, there are certain rules which we have formulated which you must follow. Unless these rules are complied with, your letters cannot receive any attention.

First Address your letters to me in care of this paper. They will be forwarded to my New York City office. Sign your name as evidence of good faith. It will not be used in any way. (When I answer you in the column I use one initial.)

Second Write legibly and with a pen—if your handwriting is not clear get somebody to write for you or use a typewriter. Do not write more than 200 words. Remember the number of letters I get!

Third: When you ask for material which we have offered, you must enclose a large sized, self-addressed stamped envelope (s. a. s. e.). The address must include your full name, street and number, city or town, and state. The booklet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must include ten cents in loose stamps. Do not send money—it is too easily lost in the mails. (Only one booklet can be sent with each request.)

Fourth: Do not ask for diagnoses or for individual treatment. Do not ask questions that are not of general interest and answerable in the column. You must see your personal physician for such information. Watch my daily articles for something similar to the questions you want discussed, and consider yourself answered when you see them, whether your initials are appended or not. I must answer questions collectively in order to save time and space.

Fifth: Allow at least three weeks to elapse before thinking your request for material has gone astray or is not answered because you have not followed the rules. Allow a much longer period of time for an answer to appear in the column, if it can appear.

Don't forget to enclose a fully self-addressed and stamped envelope with your request for any material which we have offered (and the ten cents in stamps if you ask for the booklet on reducing and gaining).

Unless these rules are obeyed, your letters cannot receive any attention.

I feel like adding a last rule It is this: Save some of your 200 words to continue telling me how much you enjoy the column and how much benefit you are deriving from it. Such a message is an inspiration to me and to the followers and makes our work happier and therefore more helpful.

My dear Followers:

When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose TEN cents in stamps extra Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, NOT OVER 200 WORDS, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Peterson Asked For 2 Cabinets; Received Three

Instead of two new steel filing cases for his office which Secretary Van Peterson of the state guaranty fund commission asked for recently, he has been furnished with three. They cost, all told, in the neighborhood of $100

The original requisition was made out and delivered to State Purchasing Agent Pirie for two filing cabinets of the same make as those already in use by the guaranty fund commission It happens that the state trade and commerce department, which adjoins the commission's office, has furniture of another make Kirk Griggs, head of that department, is also chairman of the guaranty fund commission ex-officio and nom de plume, but not de facto.

There is a rule requiring each code department when buying more equipment, to take the same kind it already has. The guaranty fund commission claims it is an independent body and not attached to the trade and commerce department. However, State Purchasing Agent Pirie decided that the kind of filing case specified by Peterson was not the one to buy. He substituted another make and ordered one of that type.

When it came, Secretary Peterson saw he wasn't getting what he had asked for. He had expected to make two new cabinets fill the bill, as those he had in view have interchangeable drawers with the furniture previously bought. The drawers wouldn't fit the other kind So Peterson went ahead and bought the pair he wanted, regardless.

The purchasing agent approved a voucher for the odd one, to be paid out of the commission's regular appropriation of $30,000 made by the legislature. He would not O K. the claims for the others. That made no difference, however, as the commission has at its disposal moneys realized from the assets of failed banks, as well as a "conservation fund" derived from assessments on solvent banks. Peterson simply paid for the two cases of his choice out of the commission's own cash pile, and the incident was closed.

Banking Reserve Shows Increase

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(AP)—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows excess reserve of $39,077,290. This is an increase in reserve of $33,797,110 compared with last week, when excess reserve totalled $5,280,180.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Ralph Buechner, Archie McMullen, Helen Seymour, Lucille Bedelle have been elected to the student council to serve the remainder of the school yeear. The mid-year graduates, whose places they take are, Eleanor Berge, Elizabeth Raugh, Allan Champe and Bud McBride. Ralph Buechner was high man. Ralph is a regular on the basketball team and presiden tof the boys' glee club. Helen Seymour and Archie McMillen tied for second place. Helen is a member of the all girls' council and Archie was managing editor and advertising manager of the Advocate and president of the Forum. Lucille Bedelle, is president of the girls' athletic association.

The first regular student council meeting of the semester was held Wednesday. Josephine Orr was elected corresponding secretary of the council, the new members were introduced and committee reports were given and approved. It was decided to hold matinee parties once every two weeks in one of the gymnasiums.

Miss Muir Files For Re-election To Legislature

Sarah T. Muir, the only woman representative from Lancaster county in the last legislature, has filed with the county clerk for re-election in the thirty-sixth district. She is a republican.

Miss Muir, who also is head of the department of English at Lincoln high school, won her last political contest against a man by a large majority.

SARAH T. MUIR.

During the last legislative session she was chairman of the house committee on arrangement and phraseology and was active in the promotion of a number of bills.

Nebraska Towns Form Oil Firms to Lower Gas Prices

Steps are being taken at several places in Nebraska to organize cooperative and community oil companies with a view to lowering prices of gasoline and oil in those localities. One of these is being formed at Columbus, and another at Dakota City.

A telephone message was received Saturday by Chief Craig of the state blue sky bureau from August Wagner of Columbus, an attorney, who is president of the community oil company formed there. He asked about getting a permit from the bureau for the sale of stock to local people at Columbus. Under the law, no permit is required for a Nebraska corporation issuing less than $25,000 of stock It is proposed to finance the Columbus undertaking at $5,000 or $10,000.

Gasoline has been selling at 22 cents in Columbus, Mr Wagner said, and the advance of 1 cent in price now being made in Nebraska will increase it to 23 cents.

F. C. Luchsinger is secretary of the community corporation, and C. M. Juhnke and C. S. Everst are two of the directors.

The Dakota County Co-Operative Oil Co. of Dakota City has filed its articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, with a limit of $20,000 no the capital stock issue. J. T. Daley, E. J. Way, S. H. Bridenbaugh, and four others sign as incorporators.

CHAPTER 51.

He had had no idea that it was going to be so hard. He had thought that he had prepared himself for the ordeal.

This was the thought that flashed into John Hay's mind as he stood by his aunt while she welcomed her dinner guests on Friday night.

Jim was late getting home from the office, Miss Hay was explaining. He had come in a few minutes ago, and would be right down. Meanwhile, here was Jack.

John bent low over Amelia Fitzgerald's hand and said thee conventional thing. Out of the corner of his eye he saw that Alice had dropped behind her parents as they entered the room. Therefore Richard Fitzgerald was the next person he must greet. The elderly man addressed the young one cordially.

"Glad to see you, my boy," he declared. "I hoped you would be here."

"Good evening!" Alice had greeted her hostess and now held her hand out to John.

He felt her slender fingers in his grasp. His own fingers contracted involuntarily and he saw the blood mount to her cheeks at the pressure.

He must say something to her. He had written her a conventional note of good wishes some days ago, and she had not answered it. She referred to it now to fill in an awkward pause.

"I have been meaning to write you my thanks for your kind letter," she remarked softly. "But I have had so many letters of congratulation to answer that I have put off replying to yours. I thought you would understand."

He had released her hand. Her eyes were downcast and did not meet his gaze.

"Certainly I understand," he said with the calm manner of the man of the world. "Formal letters are a bit of a nuisance, anyway."

"I hate to think," she said quickly "that you found your letter to me a nuisance. Yet it was formal."

Was she hurt by his speech? he wondered. She spoke as if she were wounded, or, perhaps, to defend herself against something he might say or might be thinking.

"It may have been formal but it was sincere," he said gravely. "I hope you believe that."

"I do," she answered, turning away.

She did not wish to talk longer with him, he reflected swiftly. Better that she should not if he would keep his calm bearing through the evening. He had never seen her as lovely as she was tonight. He fancied that her face had gained in spiritual fineness. Her color was brilliant, but her eyes were larger and deeper than usual and there was a wistful curve to her lips.

Her pale blue dinner gown was simplye in outline and showed the slight girlish figure to advantage. A mad desire seized him to take her in his arms, to crush her to his breast, to tell her that he loved her, loved her—

"How are you feeling, my boy?"

Richard Fitzgerald was speaking to him. He must answer sanely.

"Very well, thank you sir."

"You do not look it, if you will pardon my saying so," the guest remarked. "You are paler and thinner than you were. Ah—here is Jim."

James hurried forward.

"I beg you all a thousand pardons!" he exclaimed. "I was detained at the office by business at the last moment. It is always so when I plan to get away early. I am sorry, Aunt Kate."

"That is all right, dear," his aunt assured him. "You are only a few minutes late, and nothing will be spoiled by this little wait."

With his easy grace James Hay shook hands with the guests. Then he nodded to his brother.

"Hello, Jack! I haven't seen you since morning."

"No," John forced a smile to his lips.

The waitress swept aside the portieres between the living room and dining room. At the signal Miss Hay moved toward the archway

John was silent while the hostess was seating her guests. He was remembering that he had looked into James' office an hour ago and found it empty. The office boy had told him that Mr. James Hay had not been in since four o'clock.

"When he left he said he doubted if he would be back again today," the boy had added.

Yet James said he had been detained at the office

John started nervously as his aunt spoke his name.

"Jack, will you sit there between Mrs. Fitzgerald and Alice? I am sorry that I cannot arrange our little group so that no two members of the same family need sit next each other. But with a party of six, and with three from each family, it is quite impossible."

"This is a delightful arrangement for me," John said as he drew back Mrs. Fitzgerald's chair. She was on his left hand. On his right was Alice, whom James was seating before taking his own place on her other side. Opposite John was Miss Hay with Mr. Fitzgerald on her right.

"You two boys have the prettiest way of paying compliments," Amelia Fitzgerald giggled happily. "And even if Daddy is on one side of me I shall not look at him once through all the dinner, for I shall occupy myself with Jack here on my right! As to Alice," smiling at her daughter, "she is happy, too, with Jim next to her. She is most beautifully placed, dear Miss Hay, between those two brothers. But I mean to monopolize Jack—so she will have to be satisfied with Jim. She ought to be, anyway, since she chose him to have and to hold forever."

James spoke so quickly that there was no need of any response from Alice.

"I agree with you, Mrs. Fitzgerald, that Aunt Kate has arranged the seating of her guests perfectly. I am just where I want most to be."

He glanced at his fiancee. But she did not look at him.

Yes, John groaned inwardly—this dinner was going to be harder than he had even imagined it would be.

FRANK MARSH IN G. O. P. PRIMARY

Norfolk Man Files As Candidate For Secretary Of State.

Frank Marsh of Norfolk, a political unknown, is the second man to enter the race for secretary of state in the republican primary. His filing papers were received by mail Saturday morning at Secretary Pool's office and duly recorded.

Nobody at the capitol seemed to know anything about Marsh. He has never been prominent in state politics It was suggested, however, that he might prove rather formidable in the primary on account of having the same name as the present state auditor, who is well known over the state. A name familiar to the voters is counted as a valuable asset to anyone seeking an elective office.

William Widener of Lincoln made his entry for secretary of state as a republican several days ago, and Dr. T. W. Bass chief of state gasoline tax bureau, is understood to be getting ready to do the same thing.

County Clerk Rudolph Brazda of Cuming county, who visited the capitol Saturday, may decide to try again for state auditor on the democratic ticket this year. He lost in the primary two years ago to C. E. Harman of Lincoln.

Dr. Bollmeier Is Suspended Pending License Procedure

Under instructions given by the board of control, Dr. L. N. Bollmeier has been relieved of further duty as assistant physician at the Hastings state hospital for insane, because he has no license to practice medicine in Nebraka. The following note dated February 5 was received by the board Saturday from Acting Superintendent G. L. Pinney:

"As per your request, Dr. Ludolph N. Bollmeier has this day been suspended from the payroll pending license procedure."

No immediate appointment will be made to fill the vacancy, Chairman Oberlies said. As there are three assistant physicians now on duty at Hastings, besides Acting Supt. Pinney, the hospital patients will not be deprived of adequate medical attention on account of Bollmeier's suspension.

The latter will not be reinstated unless he can meet the legal requirements of Nebraska. He has filed no application with the state welfare department to be examined as a candidate for the medical profession

Briefly Told News From The Wires

HARLOWTON, Mont., —(AP)—A fifty-two car train load of flour manufactured here from Montana wheat left yesterday for delivery to Indiana points and Boston, Mass. The train was placarded with signs, telling of the wheat industries of Montana. It is routed over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

DAVENPORT, Ia.,—(AP)—Charges of arson against Charles Brady, prominent Davenport man, were dismissed by the grand jury here Friday when Dave Sterling retracted his former testimony that Brady had hired him, along with Hyman Miller, to start three fires here and one in Rock Island. Miller was recently arrested in Chicago on a blackmail charge.

EVANSVILLE, Ind.— (AP)—The finding today of a human leg buried in a thicket near here started police on a search that culminated not in the finding of a body but in the discovery of superstitious Cornelius Hunt of Earlington, Ky. Hunt said the leg was amputated recently and he had buried it to comply with a superstition that if properly interred his remaining leg would be prevented from cramping.

WINONA, Minn. — (AP)—Representatives of towns along the Mississipi river between Hastings, Minn., and Dubuque, Ia., meeting here yesterday pledged $25,000 as their shares in the campaign to finance the Mississipi river barge line between the Twin Cities and St. Louis. Pledges of $5,000 each were made by shippers and civic leaders representing the cities of Winona, LaCrosse, Wis., and Dubuque, Ia., while the remaining $10,000 was divided proportionately between the smaller towns along the river.

DENVER, Colo.—(AP)—One woman, Miss Anna McGroarty, 50, is in a serious condition with a fractured skull, and two other women are suffering from shock as the result of attacks Thursday night. Police are seeking a negro, who is believed to have beaten and robbed all three.

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Edward McGowan, negro, was executed by a firing squad at sunrise Friday at the state penitentiary for the murder of Bob Blevins, white, at Helper, Utah, January 11, 1924. McGowan, calm and composed to the last, walked unassisted from his cell to his execution.

LONDON—(AP)—The silk stocking fad is to be taken up by the donkeys in Algeria. Mrs. F. K. Hosali, who has been carrying on humanitarian work among the donkeys, mules and camels in North Africa, is in London making a collection of stockings to take back with her. She says the animals in Algeria, especially the donkeys, suffer from fly bites on their legs and she desires to obtain worn out stockings which will be used to keep bandages on the legs of the beasts.

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Punishment as a pirate of any person who lands liquor in the United States or receives intoxicants from the members of any ship's crew is proposed in a bill by Representative Ayers, democrat of Kansas.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Hashish, Asiatic narcotic preparation is being sold and smoked here with increasing frequency, according to L. J. Ulmer, chief of the United States narcotic division in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. He advocated laws prohibiting sale of the drug to which he ascribed "many of the sensational crimes."

COLUMBIA, Mo.—(AP)—A quarantine on shipments to Missouri of corn, sweet corn, vegetables and flour from eastern and central states, infested with the European corn borer was established yesterday by the plant board to prevent introduction of the pest into this state.

BLARNEY, Ireland—(AP) — The Blarney Stone has changed owners. Sir George Colthurst, who had owned the famous old Blarney castle for many decades, is dead and his elder son, who now becomes Sir George, has taken over the historic ruin. The owner, a keen sportsman, will make his home on his ancestral property. Blarney castle is open to visitors and hundreds of tourists every month are lowered by their heels to kiss the Blarney Stone. It is especially popular with Americans.

PARIS—(AP) — A violent cyclone struck the Island of Madagascar between January 30 and February 2, interrupting communication with the main land, the minister of colonies announced yesterday. The village of Vapomandry was destroyed One native was killed and several wounded. A tidal wave hit the port of Tamatave on the east coast.

WASHINGTON—(AP) — A joint resolution calling for $4,186,500 expenditure by the federal government for the Sesqui-Centennial exposition in Philadelphia was reported to the house Friday by the exposition's committee

FRANKFORT, Ky.—(AP) — The lower house of the Kentucky general assembly yesterday voted down, 51 to 43, a bill proposing a 2 per cent tax on production of coal.

ST. LOUIS Mo.—(AP)—Failing to effect a reconciliation with his 64 year old bride of three months, Edward Vermes, 67, shot her to death here Friday and then killed himself. They had been separated since two weeks after their marriage.

PITTSBURGH, Pa — (AP) — The Right Rev Alexander Mann, bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, believes that prohibition cannot be enforced and favors modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and pure beer. Bishop Mann gave his views on the prohibition question yesterday in commenting on the advocacy of beer and light wines by the Church Temperance society of the Episcopal church

HOLLYWOOD, Cal —(AP) — Barbara LaMarr, motion picture actress, who died last Saturday after an illness of several months, was buried with simple services in the Hollywood cemetery yesterday. Upwards of 40,000 persons filed past the bier of the screen star, during the three days her body lay in state in a mortuary chapel, but at Friday's services, conducted by a reader of the Christian Science church, only a few friends and close acquaintances attended, in accordance with Miss LaMarr's wish.

PARIS—(AP)—The German ambassador, Herr von Hoesch, informed Premier Briand in an interview Friday that Germany would make formal application for membership in the league of nations to Sir Eric Drummond, the secretary general at Geneva, Monday.

HAVANA—(AP)—A lone bandit held up the clerk of the Sevilla-Biltmore hotel here Friday, escaping with $3,800. Two employes of the hotel are being held by the police pending an investigation. It was the first holdup in Havana since the $20,000 robbery of the Banco de Comercio several years ago.

HARD PIMPLES ALL OVER FACE

Came to a Head. Burned Badly. Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble began with pimples breaking out all over my face. The pimples were small and hard and came to a head. They burned badly and I could not rest at night on account of the irritation.

"I tried many other remedies but they failed to relieve me. I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using it I noticed an improvement so purchased more and in about a month and a half I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Grace Dudley, 3535 Victory Ave., Racine, Wis.

Rely on Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum to keep your skin clear.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. R, Malden, Mass." Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.

The contest for Associated Oil Co. control was renewed on the floor of the stock exchange in the short session of the market today. The stock was bid up to above 59, the highest price on record, in unusually active trading in which blocks of from 5-0 to 6,000 shares changed hands. Pacific Oil, Union of California, General Petroleum and California Petroleum participated in the forward movement but on a moderate scale.

Week-end profit-taking in the industrials and motors made its appearance at the end of the first hour simultaneously with the publication of mercantile reports showing a slowing down in some important divisions of domestic business. The imminence of the report on brokers' loans, due at noon today, retarded buying of stocks for the rise and the bears were inclined to "feel out" the market here and there for weak spots. A few of the speculative leaders in the motor, oil, rail and utility stocks inaugurated new forward movements, with speculative interest concentrated in White Motors, Allied Chemical, St. Louis Southwestern and Standard Gas & Electric, respectively. Omnibus corporation swung upward to above 21 in continuation of its advance from 17, and Kelly-Springfield Tire sold above 21 for the first time this year. Allied Chemical, Savage Arms, General Electric and Cast Iron Pipe moved upward in a reduced volume of trading. California Packing regained most of Friday's closing losses and Postum Cereal was in demand on reports that acquisition fo the Shredded Wheat company's property would be obtained.

The southwestern railroad stocks, including Katy, Cotton Belt and Kansas City Southern made new fractional gains as buying demands increased in that section of the market. Important developments in connection with the amalgamation of these roads will be announced in the near future as well as the underlying policy with respect to the merger of the eastern roads.

Coppers were firm in response to the advance in copper metal prices to 14⅜c in London, but trading here was not brisk. The same is true of the bulk of the equipment, sugar and specialty stocks which have been prominent of late.

Public utilities stock carried the rally through the closing period. Standard Gas and Electric, Philadelphia Co., Consolidated Gas, Federal Light and Traction and other utility stocks reached new high levels for the year. Pacific Oil rushed up to 82¼ in this period and good buying continued in the eastern oil stocks and low-priced tire stocks.

Higher prices for the California oil stocks, railroad stocks and motors featured the stock market at the opening today. Associated Oil sold at 58, up ¾; General Petroleum up ⅜ at 59; Union Oil of California up ½ at 45½; Pacific Oil up ¼ at 81¼; California Petroleum up ⅝ at 35¾; Standard Gas & Electric advanced 2¼ to 64; Allied Chemical opened a point higher at 128⅜; U. S. Steel unchanged at 133; St. Louis Southwestern up ½ at 70⅝.

Stock sales today, 956,700 shares; bonds, $7,676,000. Sales on the New York stock exchange for the week ended February 6, aggregated $9,736,800 shares; bonds, $72,086,000.

By the Associated Press.
OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 6.

CATTLE—Receipts, 100. Not enough cattle were received this morning to make a market, and as usual on Saturday, all classes ruled nominally steady. While the week's steer trade has been an uneven up and down affair, closing prices about fair from steady from a week ago. Shipping grades show a little strength, while lower priced classes are weaker if anything. Top for week was $10.50. She stock closed weak to mostly 25c lower and in dull demand. Stockers and feeders were mostly 1c to 15c lower, but fairly active at the decline.

Closing: Compared with week ago: Fed steers and yearlings mostly steady; bulk for week, $8.25@9.75; several loads $9.85@10.25; medium weights, $10.30; weighty steers, $10.50; she stock steady to weak; bulls 15@25c lower; veulers 50c lower; stockers and feeders steady; bulks for week: Butcher cows, $5.25@6.50; heifers, $7.00@8.25; canners and cutters, $4.00@4.75; bologna bulls, $5.00@5.35; heavy beef bulls, $5.50@5.75; practica veal top, $10.50; stockers and feeders, $7.50@8.50; several louds $8.75@9.00.

HOGS—Receipts, 6,800. Shipper interests picked up the best light hogs in good season at largely 10c higher prices while others and packing grades sold rather slowly at discounts of a dime in most cases. Bulk of all sales was $12.25@13.00, with practical top $13.10. Prices are largely steady for the week.

Closing: Light offerings mostly 5 to 10c higher; other classes slow; mostly 5 to 15c lower; weighty butchers closing dull, 15 to 25c lower; desirable 150 to 200 pound weights, $12.75@13.00; top, $13.10; bulk, 200 to 260 pound butchers, $12.30@12.75; weighty butchers on down to $12.00; packing sows, $10.75@11.25; bulk of all sales, $12.10@13.00; average cost Friday, $12.45; weight 245.

BANKER AND WIFE START LIFE ANEW

with me and meet Dr. Baynes and give him a chance to pull you apart and put you together again, I'll go with you. You are fine underneath. Let Dr. Baynes make you the man you really want to be."

This meeting was just two days before Christmas, the American says. They agreed to meet in Montreal near Mrs. Stillman'shome at Grand Anse and this time Mr. Stillman told his wife that he would go abroad. "I will go abroad and put myself in the hands of Dr. Baynes," the American quotes him as saying. "If he can reconstruct my outlook do for me what he did for you, I shall bless you both all my life."

Dr. Baynes in Africa.

Dr. Baynes is in Africa on a hunting trip and will return to England at the end of this month.

Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Stillman will stay in Paris, where they will meet Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Davison. The latter is Anne Stillman, their daughter, at whose marriage October 18, 1924, the estranged father and mother saw each other for the first time after the hectic days of their divorce fight.

Mrs. Stillman, the American says, has promised to do everything in her power to aid her husband to rehabilitate himself in the world of finance and society.

"Jimmie is growing," the American quotes her as saying recently to a friend. "He is no longer James A. Stillman, the great banker, the great institution. He has become human. I like him as I haven't liked him for years. I've an idea he really wants to rebuild his life; perhaps I ought to put on the harness again and travel double."

Sues for $15,000—Suit for $15,000 damages was filed in district court Saturday against Dr. Harry H. Everett and the Lincoln Sanitarium by Harvey W. Beaver, 59, who alleges negligence on the part of Dr. Everett in treating an injury which Beaver suffered to his left arm. Beaver states that on January 11, 1923, he met with a serious accident as a result of which his left hand, wrist and arm were seriously broken, tornn and lacerated. Dr. Everett treated the injuries, Beaver states, and it became necessary to amputate part of the left hand. He claims that he suffered severe pains at the same time in his left forearm and that they were due to fractures of the bone of the forearm. As a result, Beaver declares, of no attempt being made to heal the latter fracture the bones knit together out of line.

TREASURY TO ASK CHANGE IN VOLSTEAD ACT

stead act are pending in congress, but the committees having jurisdiction have shown no inclination to consider them. Bills to authorize the making of beer and wine predominate among these measures.

Some time ago District Attorney Buckner at New York announced a policy of concentrating on bootleggers and rum runners in preference to lesser offenders, and afterward it was disclosed at the white house that while President Coolidge stood for full enforcement of the law, he recognized that present enforcement machinery would not permit prohibition agents to give hip pocket violators the same attention as bootleggers.

It is assumed the new legislation drafted at the treasury will have the full backing of the administration when it is submitted to congress, but the white house declined today to make any comment.

Call "Face the Facts" Meet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(By the Associated Press).—A modified system as a happy medium between the "evils" of Volsteadism and of the saloon era will be proposed at the second "face the facts" conference called by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, to meet here on George Washington's birthday.

"The definite plan for government control under a modified form of prohibition, designed to end the reign of the bootlegger" and abolish the other evils, which the association's statement charged to the Volstead law, will be proposed by William Phelps Eno, of Washington.

The call for the conference comes as new impetus for the perennial debate on prohibition and it follows closely the declaration of the Church Temperance society of the Protestant Episcopal church for modification.

With the temperance society's pronouncement being attacked and defended from manw quarters, the Rev. James Empringham, secretary of the society, has left New York for Washington, supposedly in connection with the statement. The resulting controversy will be the subject of a sermon tomorrow by Bishop William T. Manning in New York.

Prominent Speakers.

Describing the coming conference as a "major offensive against Volsteadism," the association announced that many prominent persons would participate as members of its various committees. The speakers will be Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, Senator Broussard, democrat, Louisiana; Mary T. Norton, democratic representative from New Jersey; William H. Stayton, chairman of the association, and possibly a representative of the American Federation of Labor.

The general topic of the conference is to be "the complete failure of prohibition in the United States after six years of the Volstead act as the enforcing agency of the Eighteenth amendment." Statistics bearing on

WEST INSISTING ON EVEN DIVISION

Tennis Official Bobs Up To Demand Fair Share Of Tourney Spoils.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—(I. N. S.)—That age-old challenge of the west to the right of domination by an eastern group may be thrown down again today at the annual meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis association. The west, it seems, would like to daily with a championship or two.

The original idea was to have J. C. Stewart, president of the Western Lawn Tennis association, speak his mind, but he was unable to come on for the affair and Harry Walsh has been delegated.

Threat of Secession.

Walsh visited tennis headquarters yesterday, but there was no loss of life. However, it may be that the western association means big business this time. Some half-dozen years ago, it threatened to secede from the union unless the national body admitted a bowing acquaintance with the rights of poor relations, but nothing came of it.

According to statements credited to Mr. Stewart, the western body believes the time has come when that section must be accorded due recognition when the boys begin shaking the plums down out of the date tree, so to speak.

"Big Three" in East.

There is no chance for the west to get the Davis cup challenge round, the national singles or the women's singles, even if it could prove that it had adequate facilities for handling these events. These are the "big three" of national tournament play and already have been awarded tentatively to eastern clubs, Forest Hills being named for the women's event, the week of August 16, and the men's singles during the week of Sept. 13, while it is understood that the Germantown Cricket club, Philadelphia, is slated to get the Davis cup classic, Sept. 9.

Walsh Keyed to Speak.

However, these awards of the schedule committee must be acted on favorably by today's meeting and it is at this point that Walsh may attempt to raise his protesting voice well above a fishmonger's whisper. If he can shout loud enough and with sufficient plausibility, he may succeed in breaking through service somewhere.

The east-west matches might be swung to the section beyond the Alleghenies, although the committee has named the West Side club at Forest Hills as its choice. The men's doubles is another possibility, but not a definite one. This is the only major tournament named for Longwood and Boston's objection would be strenuous.

Still, the time must come when these fixtures must rotate sectionally, like the golf events, and the United States Lawn Tennis association might just as well make up its collective mind to the fact.

Pro Footballers Shy Away From College Players

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 6.—(AP)—Several reform movements were up for consideration by representatives of the member clubs of the National Professional Football league at the semi-annual meeting here today. A rule calling for all clubs to refrain from signing collegiate players until eight months after they have been graduated was ready for submission. The question of limiting or abolishing exhibition games and tours also was a topic for discussion.

Harold "Red" Grange, was expected to make a bid for the franchise of the Chicago Cardinals, the team recently heavily fined for allowing four high school boys to play in a game against Milwaukee. It was intimated that if Grange does not get a franchise in the league next season he will sign with New York.

Boston, St. Louis and Racine, Wis., were expected to apply for franchises in the league for the next season. Many of the games to be played next fall will be scheduled at the meeting and upon the games scheduled will depend largely action on the question whether the league will be split into eastern and western divisions. If the split is made, a championship play-off between the leaders of the two divisions is contemplated.

Weather Bureau Field Stations To Be Continued

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Field stations which the weather bureau had planned to shut down wholly or in part owing to lack of funds will be continued in operation, Chief Marvin said today. This has been made possible through increase in appropriations above these recommended by the budget and partly through economies in operation.

The principal stations affected are those at St. Paul, Minn., Grand Haven, Mich., Warsaw, Wis., and Yankton, S. D.

The aerological station at Drexel, Neb., will be maintained on a reduced basis.

A Striking Success

When the bowler rolls a ball down the alley and hits the first pin just right, he knocks 'em all down with that one ball—and gets a strike!

And when you want to find an apartment, secure a position or buy a used car, you can look into the Star A-B-C Classified Section, and with just that one "look" you can see everything that is offered.

And you can strike the right thing nearly every time!

The bowler who can knock only one pin down now and then, doesn't get a very high score—and if you seek single opportunities now and then, you won't get along very fast in life.

It's much easier to pick out exactly what you want from a large group of opportunities than it is to trust to luck that you will hear of one which just meets your requirements.

Read the classified ads daily and strike just what you want, when you want it!

Nebraska vs. Jayhawks at Fieldhouse

Huskers Step Into New Basketball Arena In Game With Kansas U. Tonight; Bleachers Up to Seat 4,200.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAM.

5:30 p. m.—Doors open.
7 p. m.—University of Nebraska cadet band concert.
7:25 p. m.—Dedication exercises.
7:30 p. m.—Nebraska-Kansas game.

HOW TO REACH THE FIELDHOUSE—Go north on Fourteenth street to Vine street where temporary walks have been laid to the fieldhouse.

The University of Nebraska fieldhouse, winter home of the Cornhuskers, will be formally dedicated tonight in the presence of the greatest basketball crowd in University of Nebraska history.

Advance ticket sales to the Kansas game which will be the dedicatory combat for the new building, point to a crowd of over four thousand. The balcony seating accommodations will not be ready for several weeks and temporary bleachers have been erected around the playing court with a capacity of 4,200. The building when finished will handle a crowd of 8,500 at a cage game.

Governor and Chancellor.

Governor Adam McMullen, Chancellor Samuel Avery and Dr. George E. Condra will participate in the dedicatory exercises.

The evening's program will open with a half-hour concert by the University of Nebraska cadet band, after which Dr. G. E. Condra will introduce Chancellor Avery. The chancellor, after a brief talk, will introduce Gov. Adam McMullen. The Nebraska executive will toss the ball at center and the big game will be on.

There is plenty of respect for Kansas in the Nebraska basketball camp. Coach "Phog" Allen has seven veterans on his cage squad, five of them being members of the first-string. Schmidt, Gordon and Peterson top the Missouri Valley scoresheet and the Jayhawkers will go into the game favored to win.

Beargmen Keyed to Fight.

Coach Bearg's Nebraska youngsters, however, are conceding nothing to the Jayhawks. Although a green aggregation, the Huskers have breezed through the Missouri Valley slate without a defeat and the Cornhuskers have been "pointing" for the Kansas game, intent on plucking the Jayhawk's feathers.

The Kansas squad arrived in Lincoln minus Captain Belgaard. The Kansas captain missed train connections at Kansas City, camping in a telephone booth while the train pulled away from the station. Belgaard, however, was scheduled to join the squad late this afternoon.

Finnish Skater Smashes Record On Detroit Ice

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 6.—(AP)—International speed skating championships being held on Lake St. Claire entered their second day today with Miss Lella Brooks of Toronto far in the lead in the women's senior events and Paul O'Brien of New York and Eddie Reid of Chicago sharing top place among the men by their performances Friday afternoon.

Miss Brooks won her high place by breaking two of the three world's records shattered during the first day, the other record being hung up by Clas Thunberg, the Finnish skater.

Suspension indefinitely of Charles Gorman of St. John, N. B., and Joe Moore of New York City for failing to appear at the meet was the other feature of the opening day.

Thunberg Does His Stuff.

Finding the lake ice to his liking, but still bothered by the turns, Thunberg, Olympic titleholder, yesterday skated against time in a three-quarter mile exhibition, making the distance in 2:00 4-5. The previous record was 2:02 1-5 held by Joe Moore.

The first new record placed on the books by Miss Brooks was in the half-mile senior event for women, when the Toronto skater covered the stretch in 1:36 1-5, bettering her own record of last year by 1 1-5 seconds. Her second unusual performance was in the one-eighth mile, which she made in 44 3-5 seconds, which is 2 1-5 seconds under Gladys Robinson's record.

Tunney Due For Boom In Fight Game

BY AL DEMAREE.

It looks as though Gene Tunney is being groomed and "built up" now for a Dempsey fight this coming summer, just as a favorite son was built up and press-agented to run for the nomination for president.

Harry Wills, the colored gent in the "wood pile," has been shoved into the background, after being exploited for months, and is almost out of the picture at present. Tunney offered Wills a match months ago to settle definitely the question of a contender for Dempsey, but Wills and his manager were shooting for big money—a championship fight or nothing, and it looks now as though they'll get nothing. I don't think Gene would give Harry a match now even if Wills accepted his challenge.

But Tunney is no petty contender and Jack Kearns said a mouthful the other day when he remarked that anybody who could flatten Tommy Gibbons, as Gene did, after Tommy had stayed fifteen rounds with Dempsey, would give anybody a good argument, including the champ himself.

Tech Swimmers Defeat Lincoln

Omaha Youths Splash Their Way to Victory In Dual Tank Compet.

The Omaha Tech swimming team scored a double victory over Lincoln high tank teams Friday night at the local high school pool. The result of the first team contest was 36 to 32 in a meet that was not decided until the final event was completed. The Tech reserves turned in a 49 to 10 victory in the second team contest.

Lincoln went to the front at the start when the relay team captured first place in the 160-yard race in 1:21.1, but the lead was short-lived, for Garratto of Tech clipped 1 2-5 seconds off the state record as he came in first in the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:20.3, and Eller added three points for the Omahans when he took second honors. The lead then went to Lincoln on the fancy diving and was never relinquished until the Red and Black lost out in the 100-yard free style. McCulley's first place in the 220 clinched the victory for Tech.

The feature of the evening's performance was the fancy diving of Ed Tuma of Lincoln, who captured the honors of the event from Foster, Tech's state champion. The summary:

First Team Results.

160-yard relay—Won by Lincoln (Waldo, Spangler, Hickman, McBride). Time, 1 minute 27.1 seconds.

WEST POINT, Neb., Feb. 6.—West Point high won an easy victory over Kearney in basketball last night. Coach Helmstadter's lads won by a 23-8 score.

LINCOLN VICTIM OF FIRST DEFEAT

Capital City Cagesters On Losing End of Game With Tech.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 6.—Lincoln high went down to its first basketball defeat of the season last night when Omaha Tech trimmed the Red and Black in a thrilling game, 20 to 18. The game went an extra period, Huston caging the winning basket for Tech in the last ten seconds of play.

Lincoln held a 7-5 lead at the end of the first quarter and was setting the pace, 13-8 at half-time.

Nelson's Shots Knot Score.

Sawyer's basket gave Lincoln the first score of the game and the Red and Black were never headed until in the fourth period, when Captain Nelson of Tech caged two baskets and a free throw to knot the count at 18-all.

The two teams milled up and down the court in the extra period, neither quintet getting opportunities for close-in shots. In the last ten seconds of play Prerost fed Huston with a pass beneath the basket and the Tech forward sank it for the winning points.

Lincoln plays Omaha Central here this afternoon. Score of the Tech game.

KUCK HURLS SHOT TO WORLD RECORD

Emporia Strongman Propels Iron Ball Over 49 Feet At K. C. A. C. Meet.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 6.—(AP)—John Kuck, giant weight man of Emporia, Kas., State Teachers college, shattered the world's indoor shot put record at the Kansas City Athletic club meet last night with a heave of 49 feet 1-4 inch.

Kuck added 3 1-4 inches to the former record held by R. G. Hills of New York City, made in February, 1923.

Since he started to toss the weights in high school at Wilson, Kas., several years ago Kuck had given indications that he would develop into a star.

Another world's record was approached when Kenneth Lancaster of the University of Missouri set a mark of 12 feet, 9 inches in the pole vault, four inches lower than the record-breaking performance of Charles Hoff of Norway in New York Thursday night.

Sooners Defeat Notre Dame.

A fleet quartet from the University of Oklahoma showed its heels to Notre Dame sprinters in the feature one-mile relay.

Oklahoma finished twelve yards ahead of Notre Dame after Taylor, running in the second quarter for the Sooners, obtained the lead. The time was 3:25 4-10.

Kansas defeated Nebraska in a mile relay. The time was 3:32 8-10.

Conger Wins Mile Run.

Conger, Iowa State, captured the mile open event in the fast time of 4:31 9-10. Frazer, a Kansas freshman, running unattached, was second and Sipmck of Marquette university third.

Drake bested Missouri in a dual one-mile relay Morgan, Bagby, Chew and Tolles of the Des Moines institution, clipping off the distance in 3:48 8-10.

The 880-yard open run was won by Snodgrass, Pittsburgh, Kas., normal. Ross, Nebraska, finished second. Snodgrass' time was 2:04 4-10.

Husker Runner First.

Lewis, Nebraska, took first place in the 600-yard run for the Shannon Douglas cup, his time being 1:16 6-10. Johnson, Nebraska, was second, and Suit, Iowa State, third.

Doane college of Crete, Neb., entering the meet for the first time, placed men in the 440-yard dash and 50-yard high hurdles.

The 440-yard event was won by Renner, Kansas, in 54 8-10 seconds. Graves, Doane college, taking third. In the 50-yard high hurdles won by Doornbos, University of Kansas student, entered unattached, McKenzie of Doane placed second.

Harvard Tossers Win Over Geneva

HARVARD, Neb., Feb. 6.—The Harvard "Nitehawk" basketball team defeated Geneva cagemen here Thursday, 37 to 17. The Geneva five won from Harvard earlier in the season, 17 to 16.

Manning of Geneva, former Cotner college athlete, received a wrenched knee during the game. The Central City "Y" team will play here next week. The score:

Sprague-Martel Quint Wins Four

The Sprague-Martel basket tossers registered four victories this week. Tuesday the quintets won a double victory on the Tobias court, the first string winning a 17-14 game and the reserves winning by a 19-8 score.

Sprague-Martel defeated Firth in a double-header at Martel. The first team won 18-8 and the reserves won 18 to 7.

Floyd Fitz In Again To Talk Fight

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 6—(I. N. S.)—Floyd Fitzsimmons has already posted $50,000 of the necessary amount required to guarantee the Labor day bout between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills and the match is virtually assured, the heavyweight champion, stopping over between trains, declared here today.

Dempsey, with Mrs. Dempsey, was enroute from Florida to Memphis, where he will appear in an exhibition bout Monday night.

"I have signed to fight Wills Labor day and Fitzsimmons has the contract. I don't know where the bout will be held yet," said Dempsey. "Tunney is out of it now. I may take him on later if I go well with Wills."

RIVIERA FANS IN SKEPTICAL MOOD

Won't Believe Suzanne and Helen Will Clash Until They See It.

MEET IN MIXED DOUBLES.

NICE, France, Feb. 6.—(AP) — Helen Wills and C. F. Aechslimann will meet Suzanne Lenglen and Baron Henri De Morpurgo in the mixed doubles finals in the Nice tournament tomorrow afternoon. The American champion and her Swiss partner won their semi-final match against Miss P. M. Radcliffe and Stanley Doust today, 6-1, 7-5.

BY FREDERICK K. ABBOTT.

NICE, France, Feb. 6.—(I. N. S.)—They are all from Missouri, these Riviera fans. They want to be shown.

The bare fact that Mlle. Lenglen and Miss Helen Wills have both filed entries for the Carlton tournament singles next week does not convince them that they are going to see these two in action against each other.

These Riviera people are so accustomed to seeing the little ball go clicking around the red and black, that they know it is never a certainty until it is at rest. They feel much the same way about Suzanne's tennis engagements. One never knows until Suzanne actually enters the courts.

Helen In No Hurry.

Moreover, Miss Wills has apparently decided that she won't meet Suzanne except under the best conditions—When she is in top form and is feeling fit.

"I have never dodged the possibility of meeting Miss Wills and I hope finally to meet her in the Cannes singles," said Suzanne to the writer today. "I have every intention of playing in the Cannes tournament and only ill-health will prevent me," said Miss Wills.

Meanwhile there is no undue demand for tickets for the Cannes tournament.

French Girl Wins Finals.

Mlle. Lenglen won the finals of the women's singles here today when she defeated Miss Wright, 6-0, 6-0. She has gone through the entire tournament without losing a single game.

Suzanne is playing at top form and has developed a great deal of speed to her drive, the lack of which has always been considered the only flaw in her otherwise perfect game.

Long Odds On Suzanne.

NICE, France, Feb. 6.—(AP)—They are offering odds of 7 to 1 along the Riviera that Suzanne Lenglen will defeat Helen Wills if they meet in a tournament at Cannes next week.

The reason for the big jump in the odds was the splendid game played by Suzanne yesterday against Mrs. Hayiock of England, whom she defeated in love sets Miss Wills last week was hard put to defeat Mrs. Hayleck, 9-7, 6-2,

A Lenglen-Wills match, which has caused much ink to flow in Europe and America and which has created feeling along the Riviera, now appears virtually certain. Both have officially announced their entry for the singles of the Carlton tournament, which begins next Monday. They will be seeded in the upper and lower halves of the draw.

Both Wish Settlement.

Both champions evidently are anxious to come face to face across the net and have it out. Suzanne especially has been laboring under great mental strain, while Miss Wills, usually cool and self possessed, lately has shown signs of annoyance and is said to have decided to stake everything on her chances now, so that, whether victorious or defeated, she may enjoy a little rest from the publicity that has been following her every move.

Helen still feels her overhead game needs improvement and has been playing a practice match every morning on the Carlton courts. For these she has been picking the strongest men players available.

IOWA ATHLETES WIN MAT MEET

Hawkeye Wrestlers Defeat Cornhuskers by Point Margin of 12-8.

BY GREGG McBRIDE.

University of Iowa wrestlers scored a 12-8 victory over Nebraska university in a thrilling mat meet at the armory Friday night. The Cornhuskers won a fall and a decision, but the Hawkeyes came through with a fall and three decisions to cop the laurels.

A crowd of 1,500 people, the largest gathering of wrestling fans to watch a college match in Nebraska history, gathered at the armory arena to watch the grapplers strut their stuff. The spectators were well repaid for their efforts, each match having plenty of action.

Kellogg and Michael

Johnny Kellogg of Nebraska wrestled to a draw with Captain Michael of Iowa in the feature bout of the evening. The pair quit on even terms after eighteen minutes of grappling in which neither seem to have much the better of the argument. The tow-headed Hawkeye pilot had plenty of strength and endurance, but Kellogg was a trifle too agile, the Nebraskan conceding nothing in wrestling ability to the Iowa grappler. Michael has the record of never having lost a fall or decision in over two years of intercollegiate competition.

Michael lost his balance in endeavoring to rush Kellogg in the first minute of the bout and the pair went to the mat with Kellogg behind. The Iowa captain wriggled and squirmed and finally worked loose after Kellogg had gathered a 3:51 time advantage. The two grapplers milled about the center of the ring until the Iowa captain got behind and quit with a 4:44 advantage.

Two Extra Periods.

At the end of the twelve-minute bout, Michael had 53 seconds time advantage—seven seconds shy the minute necessary to gain a decision—and Referee O. B. Anderson ordered two extra three-minute periods.

Michael won the toss and chose to go behind. Kellogg was out after 28 seconds of wrestling. They both got to their feet and when Michael dived for Kellogg's underpinning, the Nebraska wrestler sidestepped and went behind his man. It was for a brief space of time, for the Iowan was out in a flash and they finished the period on their feet.

Kellogg went into the second extra period with a big advantage, starting out behind his man. Michael, however, broke a wrist hold and was out in 22 seconds, the pair finishing on their feet. Michael has a net advantage of six seconds for the extra period but as 30 seconds is necessary, the match was declared a draw.

Skinner Wins Fall.

Dale Skinner, Broken Bow boy, won the only fall achieved by the Nebraska team. He tore into Montgomery, Iowa welterweight, and hurled the Iowan to the mat in the first ten seconds. He clamped on an arm scissors and bar arm after 30 seconds of wrestling. Montgomery never escaped from the punishing hold and Skinner flattened him in less than 3 minutes.

Skinner's victory gave Nebraska an 8-3 lead, but Grattan regained the advantage for Iowa when he flopped Brannigan of Nebraska in 8 minutes. Grattan went behind at the end of three minutes and Brannigan, in endeavoring to come out, rolled into a body scissors. Grattan applie a bar arm to finish the job.

A punishing wristlock which Referee O. B. Anderson forced Voltmer of Iowa to break, cost Captain Highley of Iowa his match in the light-heavyweight division. Early in the match Voltmer applied a double wristlock from underneath and rolled over on Highley's arm, bending it back in a dangerous position. Highley continued the match on the defensive, being forced to yield to a decision.

Decision to Hawkeye Heavy.

Nebraska supporters took hope for a brief instant during the heavyweight match when Tuning, Cornhusker heavy, got behind Yegge for a 55-second advantage early in the bout. He had the Iowan in a bad way several times, but Yegge came out of the difficulty and went behind late in the match, applying his extra five pounds to gain a decision.

Weber gained a decision for Nebraska in the 125-pound class. Weber went behind after two minutes of milling about the ring and alternated between an inside wristlock and body scissors to gain a decision by a wide margin. Weir of Iowa was too strong for Karrer of Nebraska and gained an easy decision in the bantamweight class. The summary:

Summary of Results.

115 pounds—Weir (I.) won from Karrer (N.) by decision with time advantage of 1 minutes 38 seconds.

125 pounds—Weber (N.) won from Logan (I.) by decision with time advantage of 10 minutes 15 seconds.

135 pounds—Kellogg (N.) and Captain Michael (I.) wrestled to a draw in two extra periods.

145 pounds—Skinner (N.) won from Montgomery (I.) by fall with arm scissors and bar arm in 2 minutes 58 seconds.

158 pounds—Grattan (I.) won from Brannigan (N.) by fall with body scissors and bar am in 7 minutes 57 seconds.

175 pounds—Voltmer (I.) won from Captain Highley (N.) by decision with time advantage of 3 minutes 11 seconds.

Heavyweight—Yegge (I.) won from Tuning (N.) by decision with time advantage of 3 minutes 2 seconds.

Basketball Secrets.

F.Y SOL METZGER.

WHEN MEN ARE COVERED.

On certain occasions some players forget a most obvious fact. It is that the other team cannot possibly score if your team has possession of the ball. One of these occasions is when a player has worked the ball up past the center of the court, is covered himself, and his teammates ahead are not clear. Then he should pass it always to a teammate behind him who is clear, as pictured in the above illustration, rather than pass it forward to a teammate who must first fight in order to receive it, as in the illustration below.

Good basketball is being played when a team is compelled to pass the ball into the back court for the purpose of starting to work it forward again. Don't ever forget that.

WESLEYAN BOWS TO MORNINGSIDE

Methodists Rally In Final Half, But Lose Cage Game, 28 to 21.

Coach Dow's Nebraska Wesleyan cagers took their second North Central conference drubbing of the week when the Morningside five outscored the Methodists, 28 to 21, at University Place Friday night.

The Wesleyan five worked by spurts, threatening in both halves, but at no time was the suburban five in the lead. The husky Maroon machine clearly edged ahead of the Methodists in scoring ability, while Van Citters and Hancer, 190-pound guards, smothered the scoring efforts of the Wesleyan tossers in the tight situations.

It was a long lead gathered in the first half that enabled Coach Wenig's team to retire with a victory, the Wesleyan five holding the visitors to a single field goal and a brace of free throws in the second period, meanwhile compiling nine points.

Maroons Far in Front.

For th first few minutes of play the game had the appearance of a one-sided affair, the Maroons pulling away to a 12 to 1 lead before the Methodists scored a basket. With nine minutes elapsed, Steeves, Calvert and Gembler counted in rapid succession, scoring six points in less than a minute.

Calvert and Bastian had matched baskets, Gembler shot from the sideline, diminishing the Maroons' lead to three points, but Hauff and Means gave the Morningside five a substantial lead, while Calvert's free throw constituted the remainder of the Methodists' scoring in the first half. Morningside led 24 to 12 at the end of the period.

Wesleyan Spurts.

The second half was a repetition of the first, except that it was the Wesleyan five which was on the heavy end of the scoring. It was not until the second period was well under way that either team did any serious shooting.

Steeves and Calvert raised the Methodist total by five points before Morningside bettered its score. Knudsen made good two tosses from the foul line, but Calvert offset this advantage with a throw from deep center. Miller, Morningside center, worked the ball under the basket for an easy shot and Gembler's down floor shot was the only other Methodist score.

Means High in Points.

Captain VanCitters of the Morningside team was outstanding. The Maroon leader had a keen eye for the basket, sinking two from the middle of the floor and rimming the hoop on other occasions. Means, at center, was high point man for the visitors.

Although the Wesleyan five did not equal its performance of Thursday night, when the Methodists made the South Dakota Coyotes extend themselves, the suburban quint was working better than it has on other occasions. Calvert, Steeves and Gembler teamed the ball well, Calvert taking the scoring honors with 10 points. Boell, Loder and Lally shared equally the work at guard. The score:

Morningside College.	B	FT	F	Pts
Bastian, f	3	0-0	3	6

Havelock Takes Defeat in Cage Mix at Fremont

FREMONT, Neb., Feb. 6.—Fremont high won a 27-23 victory over Havelock in a strenuous game here last night. The Dodge county tossers gathered a 10-1 lead during the first quarter and were never trailing during the game.

Coach Jimmy Johnston of Fremont sent in some of his reserves during the second quarter and Fremont was leading, 13x8, at half time.

Spurt by Havelock.

Johnston was forced to call on his regulars in the fourth quarter when Havelock pulled up to a 15-17 score during the third period and threatened to go ahead.

Miller was the outstanding man of the Havelock team, the football star playing an excellent floor game and setting the scoring pace with nine points.

The Havelock guards were so busy watching Gray that they overlooked Wislicin and the latter scored 18 points. The score:

Fremont.	B	FT	F	Pts
